Young Gunmen Assassinate High South Viet Politician

One Killer Flees; Attack Took Place Near Lodge's Home

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Two youthful gunmen assassinated a leading South Vietnamese politician in Saigon today, and police announced that one of the assassins confessed he was a Viet Cong terrorist.

The gunmen, firing at close range from a motorcycle, killed 58-year-old Tran Van Van as he rode in his car to his office.

A short time later, one of the pair was seized when he fell off the motorcycle near the residence of U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge. The other assassin escaped.

Van, a wealthy, Paris-educated landowner long prominent in Vietnamese politics, was a leading member of the Constituent Assembly which is writing a constitution for South Viet Nam.

His slaying a few blocks from Premier Ky's office overshadowed war developments. Only minor ground actions were reported from the fighting fronts although U.S. bombers kept up their raids over North Viet Nam. U.S. destroyers shelled supply barges just off the North Vietnamese coast.

U.S. officials reported the discovery of two 62-pound satchel charges in an ammunition dump at Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Airport, which was attacked by a Viet Cong suicide force last weekend. The explosive charges were disarmed by demolition experts.

Shortly after the assassination of Tran Van Van, police seized a youth of about 20 named Vo Van En and after questioning him all day announced he had confessed he was a Viet Cong ordered to kill Van.

There was speculation, however, that the slaying might have an affect on the running feud between politicians native to South Viet Nam and the refugees from North Viet Nam who dominate the government. Ky and most of the generals on the ruling junta are from the north.

Tran Van Van was a leading member of the southern faction and ran for the Constituent Assembly on a platform that openly appealed to southern sectionalism.

On the war front, U.S. pilots flew 70 strike missions over North Viet Nam Tuesday, hitting at lines of communications and storage areas in the Hanoi, Haiphong and Dien Bien Phu areas and in the southern panhandle.

Air Force pilots reported knocking out a bridge 78 miles northeast of Dien Bien Phu, and Navy fliers claimed hits on 10 cargo barges 45 miles northwest of coastal Dong Hoi.

The U.S. command announced that one of two American jets lost over North Viet Nam Monday was the victim of a Communist MIG17, and the pilot was missing. It was the first American loss credited to the Communist jets since July. Since U.S. air attacks on the north began 22 months ago, the United States has reported the loss of six planes to MIGs. U.S. pilots have reported downing 26 of the Red jets and probably two more.

$9 Billion More Eyed To Run War

Johnson Estimates Costs To June Will Top Earlier Figures

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson estimates Viet Nam war costs between now and next June 30 will exceed earlier budget projections by $9 billion to $10 billion.

He plans to ask Congress next month for a supplemental appropriation to bridge the gap, he told a news conference Tuesday in his federal building office suite.

The President remained mum about the possibility of a 1967 tax increase, but said facts needed to make a decision are falling into place.

Although Johnson had predicted earlier that war outlays would top the budget figures by anywhere from $5 billion to $15 billion, the figures he cited at the news conference were perhaps a bit lower than many observers had expected.

Since the chief executive had long been citing the forthcoming Viet Nam money request as a major item to be pinned down before a tax decision, he was asked if the new estimate — as well as a recent federal forecast that business spending on plant expansion would slow down — would help him make such a decision.

"The answer is yes," Johnson replied. "It gives me help. If you are trying to find out if a decision has been made, it has not been."

Johnson went on to say, in response to another inquiry, that he would not speculate whether the new Viet Nam cost estimate plus results of the business investment survey would make a tax hike more or less likely.

"People might get the wrong impression," he asserted.

Although Treasury and Budget Bureau officials earlier had recommended announcement of a tax decision by about Dec. 10, the chief executive gave no indication he'll tip his hand that soon.

Actually, the question has been up in the air for nearly 10 months.

The new money request for Viet Nam will boost the defense budget to between $67 billion and $68 billion for the 1967 fiscal year that began July 1. That compares with a budget estimate last January of $58.5 billion.

How much of the defense total is being spent on the war, no one will say.

U.S. Remembers Pearl Harbor

On 25th Anniversary Of Sneak Attack By Japanese

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

From state capitals to college campuses, in churches, and on highways, millions of Americans remembered Pearl Harbor today on the 25th anniversary of the Japanese attack that brought the United States into World War II. Some of the observances took note of the Viet Nam war.

For some individuals, such as Husband E. Kimmel, the 84-year-old retired admiral who says he was blamed for America's worst naval defeat, the remembrance of Dec. 7, 1941, stirred up bitter memories.

That day a quarter of a century ago also left some footnotes to history: on the evening of the Pearl Harbor attack, Eleanor Roosevelt calmly scrambled eggs for guests at the White House, according to a journal among the manuscripts the Library of Congress in Washington put on exhibit to commemorate the 25th anniversary.

Hundreds of men who knew the horror of that December 7, a date which President Franklin D. Roosevelt said "will live in infamy," gathered in Pearl Harbor for the main commemorative ceremonies.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York ordered flags on all state buildings lowered to half staff this morning, then raised to full at noon "to remind us that we will always, with the grace of God, achieve final victory."

A special Mass was offered at Loras College in Dubuque, Iowa, for the Rev. Aloysius Schmitt, a Loras alumnus and Navy chaplain who was killed on the USS Oklahoma during the Japanese attack.

The Mass also was in memory of other chaplains and laymen of the Dubuque Roman Catholic diocese who died in action, including the Rev. William Barragy, another Loras alumnus killed recently in the Viet Nam war while serving as an Army chaplain.

Veterans groups in Carlsbad, N.M., asked residents of the city to observe a minute of silence at noon in conjunction with the sounding of 34 sirens. Motorists were asked to pull over to the side of the road.

At the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque, brief ceremonies were scheduled at a tower housing the bell from the USS New Mexico, a World War II ship. The tower honors university students killed in the war.

The William Seely School in Groton, Conn., named for the first Groton boy who died in World War II, planned ceremonies including the presentation of a plaque to be mounted in Seely's memory. Seely was serving aboard the USS Arizona when the ship was bombed at Pearl Harbor.

In two-day ceremonies beginning today, Utah State University in Logan will dedicate its new "Center for the Study of the Causes of War and Conditions of Peace."

In an interview on the eve of the Pearl Harbor anniversary, Kimmel said at his Groton, Conn., ranch house that his being blamed for the naval defeat is "a bum rap."

"My principal occupation — what's kept me alive — is to expose the entire Pearl Harbor affair," said Kimmel, who on Dec. 7, 1941, was the No. 2 Navy man in America. He was the commander of the combined U.S. and Pacific fleets.

Kimmel was relieved of command 10 days after Japan knocked out 18 ships and killed 3,435 Americans, and in three months he was retired.

Defense Chief Cites Russian Rocket Power

Missile Estimates By U.S. Too Low, McNamara Reports

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says U.S. intelligence experts underestimated the number of ocean-spanning missiles the Soviet Union will have in place by mid-1968.

But he says U.S. estimates of the number of long-range missiles now deployed by the Soviets are "remarkably accurate." He added that the error in assessing Moscow's missile-production plans has "no basic impact" on U.S. offensive requirements.

McNamara's disclosures, made Tuesday as he talked with newsmen at President Johnson's Texas office, followed his postelection announcement last month that the Soviets are erecting an antimissile defense around major cities.

The Pentagon chief was in Texas for discussions with the President on future military needs and spending.

While admitting national intelligence estimates on Soviet missile deployment fell on the short side, McNamara took unusual pains to stress the United States can deal a crushing nuclear blow to any attacking enemy.

McNamara made these points:

—The United States still maintains a 3 or 4 to 1 advantage over the Soviet Union in intercontinental ballistic missiles.

—Even if new intelligence estimates for mid-1968 Soviet nuclear strength are correct, the United States will hold a "substantial quantatative and qualitative lead" without taking any actions beyond those already planned and financed this fiscal year.

—Hedging against a possible intelligence error, the United States accelerated development of the submarine-launched Poseidon missile, pushed work on new penetration aids to insure that missiles get through any enemy defense, and decided to deploy the improved, land-based Minuteman III ICBM.

"We now have evidence indicating that we were very wise to plan our intercontinental ballistic missile program on the assumption that the national intelligence estimates for the future beyond mid-1967 might be low," McNamara said.

New Hassle Brews In Ohio On Medicare

$1.2 Million In Doctors Bills Cited On Payments Issue

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— A new Medicare hassle brewed today in Ohio, where $1.2 million in doctor bills is backlogged because of a dispute over payment procedures.

The new controversy involves an estimated 74,000 Ohioans who receive public welfare asistance under Aid for the Aged. Most of them also are enrolled in Medicare, the new federal program of medical assistance for those over 65.

An estimated $1.2 million to $1.5 million in doctor bills has built up since Medicare took effect July 1, estimated John W. Main, chief of the State Welfare Department's Division of Business Administration.

A method has been worked out to pay those 40,000 to 50,000 bills, sent in before Nov. 1, he said. But that leaves unresolved a conflict between federal welfare requirements and Ohio doctors.

The federal requirement stems fron an order that "Aid for the Aged patients treated by Ohio doctors must be billed on Medicare forms, that doctors must accept Medicare payment and must mail the forms to the Ohio Department of Public Welfare," said Charles Edgar, a spokesman for the Ohio State Medical Association.

"When it comes right down to it, that's just what we told the doctors," Main agreed.

The dispute is related only in principle to earlier Medicare hassles involving doctors in Youngstown, Lancaster and Mount Vernon. In those cases, doctors objected to signing forms to certify for Medicare that hospital patients need to be in the hospital.

In the latest case, Edgar said, the federal regulation conflicts with a medical association policy "that all doctors should bill directly all patients, regardless of what third party, public or private may be involved." The doctors contend the Medicare law guaranteed no interference with the doctor-patient relationship," but the welfare department regulation violates this.

The state department, Main said, "has no alternative in this situation."

Exports Chief Target

Total Rhodesian Boycott Pressed

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — African members of the United Nations sought support today to pressure the Security Council into slapping a total economic boycott on Rhodesia.

The African clamor rose as British Foreign Secretary George Brown arrived in New York to put a "soft" draft resolution before the council Thursday asking selective mandatory sanctions against the rebellious central African colony. The chief target would be Rhodesian exports.

British sources said Brown was empowered, if pressed, to include a limited embargo on export of oil to Rhodesia. But South Africa, Rhodesia's chief source of oil, has already said it would continue normal trade with its northern neighbor.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson's government turned to the Security Council after a last-ditch settlement was rejected Monday by the Rhodesian government.

The African bloc scheduled a meeting late today to map strategy for a new drive against the white minority government of Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith. Smith's regime seized independence 13 months ago rather than agree to British demands for guarantees of eventual majority rule for Rhodesia's 4 million Africans. The colony has 225,000 whites.

Although extremists in the African group want to extend the proposed boycott to include South Africa, one African delegate expressed doubt the majority of the 15-nation council would approve this.

"Too many council members are carrying on trade with South Africa to go for any such proposal," he said.

The militants in the African group also seemed certain to increase pressure for use of British force to bring down Smith's regime, but this was also considered certain to be defeated.

The United States is expected to support Britain's position on Rhodesia with possible reservations. The issue has attracted such high-level interest, said U.S. administration sources in Washington, that specific instructions are being drafted for U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg.

Meeting Will Be Held

Wellsville Acts To Speed Low-Cost Housing Plans

Members of Wellsville City Council, Mayor William Daugherty and other city officials will confer shortly on plans to obtain a professional planner to assist in a federally - supplemented low - cost housing program for the community.

The meeting, due to be held some time before Dec. 20, was agreed to during Council's session Tuesday night following a suggestion from the mayor that some action be initiated.

The mayor's letter reviewed the requirements necessary for implementation of the plan and reminded councilmen that federal aid would cover two-thirds of the cost, with the balance provided by the city in cash or by "in-kind services" from the service director, auditor, water department, fire chief and mayor.

Target date for completion of the project is 18 to 24 months.

Clerk Wayne Rose read a communication from Ben Berman and John Bauknecht, attorneys, requesting the city pay Wellsville Patrolman Charles Amato a total of $2,329.64, the sum of back pay they feel he is due, plus vacation pay amounting to $178.50 and a clothing allowance of $146.67. Following a lengthy controversy, Amato recently had his appointment to the police department upheld by the Ohio Supreme Court.

The attorneys' letter stated that if all the suggested funds were paid within 30 days, interest charges would be waived.

One Killed, 13 Hurt When Train Derails

CHICAGO (AP) — An elevated train ran off the rails during a rainstorm today and one of its eight cars plunged 30 feet to the ground, killing one person. Thirteen persons were injured.

Another car was left hanging, one end attached to the train, the other resting on the ground.

The accident occurred near the Chicago Transit Authority station at 41st Street and Indiana Avenue on the South Side.

CTA officials said the cause of the crash had not been determined.

The train was carrying a light passenger load because during the morning rush hour the heavy travel on this CTA division runs from the South Side north toward the downtown business district.

Would Limit Local Boards' Power

Group To Urge Overhaul Of Present Draft System

CHICAGO (AP) — A national draft conference is expected to call today for a major overhaul of the nation's Selective Service System — with the emphasis on limiting the authority of local draft boards.

The consensus seemingly emerged after more than four days of wrangling debate on the draft and its alternatives. The conferees made it clear that they agreed, along with Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, that the present draft laws are a haze of inequities.

The Massachusetts Democrat told a news conference Tuesday night that revision of the draft will emerge as "one of the most important and significant issues Congress will address itself to in the next few months."

"There is a concern around the country about the draft," Kennedy added. "It is in the foremost in the minds of our young people."

An estimated $1.2 million to $1.5 million in doctor bills has built up since Medicare took effect July 1, estimated John W. Main, chief of the State Welfare Department's Division of Business Administration.

A method has been worked out to pay those 40,000 to 50,000 bills, sent in before Nov. 1, he said. But that leaves unresolved a conflict between federal welfare requirements and Ohio doctors.

The federal requirement stems fron an order that "Aid for the Aged patients treated by Ohio doctors must be billed on Medicare forms, that doctors must accept Medicare payment and must mail the forms to the Ohio Department of Public Welfare," said Charles Edgar, a spokesman for the Ohio State Medical Association.

"When it comes right down to it, that's just what we told the doctors," Main agreed.

The dispute is related only in principle to earlier Medicare hassles involving doctors in Youngstown, Lancaster and Mount Vernon. In those cases, doctors objected to signing forms to certify for Medicare that hospital patients need to be in the hospital.

In the latest case, Edgar said, the federal regulation conflicts with a medical association policy "that all doctors should bill directly all patients, regardless of what third party, public or private may be involved." The doctors contend the Medicare law guaranteed no interference with the doctor-patient relationship," but the welfare department regulation violates this.

The state department, Main said, "has no alternative in this situation."

Two Kinds Of Selective Service

One hundred delegates to the National Conference on U.S. Selective Service in Chicago this week debated what can and should be done to make our federal Selective Service draft system more equitable.

We don't know what their recommendations will be to the National Commission on Selective Service, a 20-member panel appointed by President Johnson to come up with suggestions before parts of the present draft law expire next June 30.

In our opinion, no single answer exists for all types of war.

A global conflict, such as World War II, throws an entirely different light on the manpower needs of the military than do the limited "wars" such as the one in which we now find ourselves engaged in Vietnam.

During a global war, most able - bodied men are anxious to answer the call to arms.

But in limited wars such as Vietnam the manpower needs are much smaller. Only 600,000 men have been needed by the draft since our escalation in the Far East.

Thus arises a problem:

Which young men should be called?

Actually, since the young men themselves are not anxious to face the sacrifices that are asked of them under our present draft, it has become a fencing bout to determine who should not have to make the sacrifice.

Should those who can afford college educations be spared?

Should those who have minor physical or mental impairments not be required to serve, because the military's standards are perhaps higher than they should be?

Should young men be let off the hook simply because they are married?

The draft exacts many sacrifices from the inductees.

They give up their freedom for the regimentation of the military; they give two years of their lives; they fall behind in education, income, advancement at their particular places of employment, and must break their family and social ties while they are away from home.

While in service they, in effect, become second or third-class citizens. In most cases, they receive much lower pay than when they were civilians. Yet, when they travel on furloughs or leaves they find themselves paying the same fares as their counterparts who are not in the armed forces.

Those in the Far East risk not only life and limb in battle, but face disease and discomforts that most of us never will fully realize exist.

During all-out war most men accept such sacrifices.

But limited war reduces this desire.

Perhaps there are two answers, one for each type of war.

One would be a volunteer military service, with adequate pay, retirement programs and other enticements that would fill the ranks of all the services with the required number of men.

The other would be a Selective Service System such as we have now and which proved satisfactory in World War II.

The volunteer program would be too costly for the nation to support in a global conflict.

It would be very expensive for a war such as the one in Vietnam.

But the cost for the limited war might make our leaders in Washington, and certainly our taxpayers at home, give more serious consideration to escalating our military assistance abroad if that were the case.

If our young men are to continue their belief in their American heritage and the precepts of democracy, our Selective Service System, or its administration, must adopt some rules which will align it more closely with our Bill of Rights.

Needed Action

Introduction of a reciprocity city income tax proposal for East Liverpool and neighboring Midland should be welcome news for affected workers in the two communities.

The plan is now being studied by councilmen here, with City Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper urging final action by Dec. 19.

The legislation would erase inequities that now exist. Its approval should be forthcoming so the revised rates can be placed into effect by the new year.

Taxation at its best is generally difficult to accept, but when what might be termed "double taxation" occurs it becomes even more upsetting.

The Roses Are Wilted

"A rose by any other name. . . ."

We doubt whether it will smell as sweet come Jan. 1 of the new year.

The plight of the Rose Bowl football game promoters this year is almost beyond comprehension.

They simply do not have an attraction — largely because of the arbitrary rules laid down by the two conferences from which the competing teams are drawn.

Purdue will be the Big Ten representative. The Boilermakers are a good football team and need offer no apologies for their 1966 record. But they are second best in the conference.

The champion is Michigan State, but the Spartans are barred from the Jan. 1 classic because they put in an appearance at the Pasadena bowl last New Year's Day.

On its record, the University of Southern California won the nod as the West Coast representative.

But the Trojans lost a football game to the runnerup, the University of California at Los Angeles.

And what is even worse, they took an unmerciful clobbering from Notre Dame in the regular season finale for both teams. And Notre Dame played a tie game with Michigan State in what was billed as the "Battle of the Titans" for the national championship.

Adding further to Rose Bowl woes, nine USC players were declared ineligible.

It will take a lot of courage for the Trojans even to show up. But even if the Boilermakers win, which they should, how hollow can a victory be?

Yes, the scent of Roses will not be as sweet on New Year's Day. But we doubt that there will be any fewer sniffers in the stands.

Sky High!

Stacks towering skyward at two area power plants serve to re-emphasize a major resource of the Upper Ohio Valley.

The utilities are keeping pace with the expanding industrial complex, assuring the power vital to development.

Some Late Returns

Though Ronald Reagan's successful contest for the governorship of California in November and the earlier election of George Murphy to the U.S. Senate has focused national attention on actors in politics, thespians aren't really taking over politics, though athletes may be.

Bob Mathias, former Stanford fullback and two-time Olympic decathalon champion was elected to the U.S. House of Representatives from California's 18th District.

Tom Gola, former professional basketball star, was elected to the House of Representatives in Pennsylvania, while another former basketball great, Clyde Lovellette, was elected sheriff of Vigo County in Indiana. Lovellette's opponent was James (Jumbo Jim) Elliott, one-time pitcher for the Dodgers and Phillies.

Now Don Perkins, Dallas Cowboys' fullback, has announced that he will retire after this season to enter politics in New Mexico.

Does anyone dare say that politics isn't a great game?

This 'n That

Fellah means "plowman" or "tiller" in Arabic. It is used in Arabic-speaking countries, especially Egypt, to designate the peasantry as opposed to the Arabs of the desert and city.

George W. Carver, Negro scientist, won international fame as a painter. He was elected a Fellow in the Royal Society of Arts in London, an honor given to few Americans.

The Middleman

For Whom They Tolled

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON

They're putting a new name on the Paris Herald today. From now on it will be known as the International Edition of the New York Herald Tribune and Washington Post. If you ask for it under that name at the airport you'll miss your plane.

Art Buchwald

The Paris Herald has never been a crusading paper, because as a guest of the French it isn't nice to tell them how to run their capital.

But there was a time once when the paper struck a blow for freedom and I happened to be involved in the incident.

It took place when I was writing a night club column and living just off the Avenue George V on the Rue de Boccador, a cobblestone's throw from the beautiful American Pro Cathedral. At this moment some generous soul had decided to give the cathedral a gift of carillons, the likes of which had not been heard in Europe since the coronation of King Louis XIV.

THE DEAN of the cathedral, a music lover, decided to share the carillons with all of the Right Bank of Paris. And as soon as they were installed and blessed, he proceeded to have them play on the hour, every hour from 9 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock at night, with an added concert at noon and 6 o'clock.

Well, as much as I have loved the cathedral, the bells were driving me nuts. I knew a plea to the dean from a night club columnist would have little effect, so I decided to take the issue to the reading public of the Paris Herald.

I wrote a letter to the paper's mailbag under a fictitious name which read:

"I am a French housewife and my husband works on the Metro (subway) all night long. He can't sleep in the daytime because your American cathedral keeps ringing its bells. Why don't you ring them on Sundays like the Catholics do and let it go at that?"

Madame Micheline du Bois."

The letter produced real mail from many indignant Americans who didn't care about the American cathedral as much as they did about the anti-American comments. There was a series of letters demanding to know where France would be without the United States. My campaign to eliminate the bells was sidetracked for a week until I got it on the rails again with a letter which said:

"I believe the real question is not what America has done for France, but what the Americna cathedral is doing to Franco-American relations. We French don't want to be reminded what time it is. It interferes with our lunch hour. I say stop the bells or close the church.

Allan Berlheim"

THE MAIL poured in, but we only printed the anti-bell letters. One of the deacons of the church also happened to be the general manager of the paper. He knew vaguely I had something to do with the anti-carillon campaign and he said, "Don't you have any letters for the bells?"

I said, "Of course."

"Well, why don't we print one?" he said angrily.

I rushed to my typewriter and wrote the final letter of my campaign. It read:

"Dear Sir, I don't know what all the fuss is about the bells. They have never bothered me. Guilio Ascerelli, Rome, Italy."

The general manager gave orders that no more letters were to be printed about the bells. But lo, a few days later they stopped ringing on the hour and only rang at noon. It was a great victory for a free press. And for the next three years the Paris Herald's night club columnist slept on the Rue de Boccador like a baby.

Season To Be Jolly . . .

By William L. Hopper

'Tis the season to be jolly and that means gift buying time.

For anyone who somehow has missed the harrowing experience of buying a product at a reduced price by taking it unassembled. . . let this be a warning—don't do it.

That is if you want this to stay the jolly season, don't do it.

The most likely person to be tempted by the in-carton buy is the loving father who wishes to give his child something nice, but wants to make it a bit more personal by putting it together himself. Of course, dad doesn't mind saving that extra buck either.

In hopes of saving someone some trouble this season, let's follow a happy buyer home after he has made his buy.

He patiently whiles away the evening smoking his pipe, relaxing and reading the newspaper.

Finally, the youngster is in bed and the house is quiet.

He saunters over in the hall closet and takes out the heavy cardboard box.

AT THIS POINT his kitchen queen enters. "Need any help dear?"

"No thanks, I can whip 'Mighty Mansion' doll house together in a jiffy," is his confident reply.

She retreats into the kitchen.

Instilled with confidence and the creative urge, the buyer rips apart the carton with reckless abandon in the middle of the living room.

The job doesn't look too tough. There are maybe a dozen pieces to assemble.

The first obstacle pounces on the intrepid constructioneer with all the subtly of a 240-pound defensive tackle. He can't find any directions.

A near-frantic search turns up the faintly mimeographed diagram stuck to a glob of paint on the underside of one of the metal pieces.

First step: lay out all the parts and see if any is missing. Check.

Rubbing his hands with enthusiastic anticipation, he begins. Side A is placed against side B and so on.

Pretty soon he sees he is going to have to make some minor adjustments because hole D is not in the right place to meet up with hole E.

About now a little perspiration appears on his brow and there is a slight ache between his shoulder blades.

BUT PROGRESS IS being made. After about 30 minutes one screw is firmly in place.

By holding two pieces between his feet and using his left elbow and hand to provide proper spacing, our assemblyman closes in fast on the second screw.

Just as he applies the final twist, there is an unexpected slip and the screwdriver point leaves a long jet vapor trail of peeled paint.

And so it goes for five hours.

The kitchen ruler has long since retired, but the echo of her sarcastic laugh lingers on.

With a wisp of bedraggled hair plastered to a wet forehead, our mechanic is about to place the last screw in place.

His back aches, his head aches and it is way past bedtime, but he smiles. He is just about to conquer the enemy.

But wait, he is on his hands and knees, running his hands over the carpet. His nose is close to the floor as he flings aside the pieces of carton and peers under the nearly-complete doll house.

He can't find that last screw.

HIS BLOOD PRESSURE mounts as he divides his wrath between the manufacturer, distributor and the unobtrusive project looking at him with its missing screw Cyclops eye.

But he is not defeated.

A quick trip to the kitchen queen's "odds and ends" drawer turns up a screw of the right length.

His engineering masterpiece safely hidden away, he trudges off to bed. His feeling of pride is diminished considerably by his disillusionment.

He realizes that he isn't going to feel like going to work the next day and he already has divided his savings on the purchase by the assembly time and found he was laboring all evening for 22 cents an hour.

Keep our hero in mind the next time you consider one of those "boxed bargains." You just might get more than you bargained for.

Pearl Harbor

By David Lawrence

Things That Might Have Been

While much attention is currently being given to the anniversary of the surprise attack on Pearl Harbor 25 years ago, little is generally known, even today, about what really happened in the months immediately preceding the outbreak.

American officials had a feeling at the time that an attack was imminent, but military men thought it would come in the vicinity of the Philippines.

A few weeks before the assault on Pearl Harbor, this correspondent had a long talk here with Admiral Nomura, the Japanese ambassador to the United States, who was plainly worried about a possible war. He felt it would be senseless and privately remarked:

"If war comes, you will win. But war settles nothing that peaceful negotiation at the opportune moment could not settle much better."

SUBSEQUENTLY A MEMBER of the Japanese Parliament who had graduated from an American college called on this writer in Washington and explained that, while the military clique had virtually taken over in Japan, there still was a chance for peace. The Japanese ambassador and the visitor from Japan later talked at length with this correspondent who urged that all such information be disclosed just as frankly to the Department of State.

Many years later, former President Hoover, upon learning of the strenuous efforts made by Ambassador Nomura to prevent a war, wrote him a letter in which Mr. Hoover said:

"In making a study of the period when you so earnestly and ably strove to prevent a war in the Pacific, I find myself time and again filled with admiration for your efforts. And what a better world this would be had your urging been heeded!"

It's a fact that Admiral Nomura wasn't told in advance by his government of the plan to attack in Hawaii or of any decision to break off diplomatic relations with the United States.

Cordell Hull, who was secretary of state at the time, voiced his anxiety in Cabinet councils. He believed that war with Japan was likely and was well aware that the Hitler government in Berlin was doing everything it could to consummate a secret alliance with the Tokyo regime.

WHILE AMERICAN ENTRY into World War II might not have been prevented, due to dangers on the Atlantic side, there is reason to think the Japanese might have become an ally of the West rather than a partner of the Nazi government in Germany. On Nov. 27, 1941, this correspondent wrote in a dispatch:

"As befits a delicate negotiation, the conversations between the Japanese and American governments have been carried on with the utmost secrecy. Yet everybody knows that matters of the gravest importance are under discussion. The issues are fundamental, and while there are certain risks in publicity, there are, on the other hand, considerations which would make it possible for the Japanese and the American peoples to avoid friction if the nature of the problem were better understood by the public in both countries. . . .

"The United States holds some trump cards because her financial and economic resources can be of material assistance to both Japan and China in an era of reconstruction and everybody knows that economically both countries are in desperate circumstances."

Through government control of the press, the people of Japan were kept in the dark about negotiations with the United States. Maybe if worldwide radio had been available to all peoples then, the result would have been different.

THE LESSONS OF 1941 are more than ever important today. President Johnson by his recent trip to Asia dramatized before all Asian peoples the deep interest of the United States in helping them achieve a better standard of living, the lack of which has enabled the Communists to gain the upper hand in China.

It's apparent, as Ambassador Nomura predicted, that war hasn't settled the Asian dilemma. The peoples of the world, however, are better informed today, and this can lead to constructive steps in Asia such as were taken in Europe in 1947 through the Marshall Plan.

Maybe if Asia had been given similar help in the postwar period, China would not have been seized in 1949 by the Communists. Then perhaps there wouldn't have been a Korean War in 1950 or a Vietnam War today, both of which have cost many more billions than would have been needed to finance a plan for economic aid to Asia through the last 20 years.

Two Kinds Of Selective Service

One hundred delegates to the National Conference on U.S. Selective Service in Chicago this week debated what can and should be done to make our federal Selective Service draft system more equitable.

We don't know what their recommendations will be to the National Commission on Selective Service, a 20-member panel appointed by President Johnson to come up with suggestions before parts of the present draft law expire next June 30.

In our opinion, no single answer exists for all types of war.

A global conflict, such as World War II, throws an entirely different light on the manpower needs of the military than do the limited "wars" such as the one in which we now find ourselves engaged in Vietnam.

During a global war, most able - bodied men are anxious to answer the call to arms.

But in limited wars such as Vietnam, the manpower needs are much smaller. Only 600,000 men have been needed by the draft since our escalation in the Far East.

Thus arises a problem:

Which young men should be called?

Actually, since the young men themselves are not anxious to face the sacrifices that are asked of them under our present draft, it has become a fencing bout to determine who should not have to make the sacrifice.

Should those who can afford college educations be spared?

Should those who have minor physical or mental impairments not be required to serve, because the military's standards are perhaps higher than they should be?

Should young men be let off the hook simply because they are married?

The draft exacts many sacrifices from the inductees.

They give up their freedom for the regimentation of the military; they give two years of their lives; they fall behind in education, income, advancement at their particular places of employment, and must break their family and social ties while they are away from home.

While in service they, in effect, become second or third-class citizens. In most cases, they receive much lower pay than when they were civilians. Yet, when they travel on furloughs or leaves they find themselves paying the same fares as their counterparts who are not in the armed forces.

Those in the Far East risk not only life and limb in battle, but face disease and discomforts that most of us never will fully realize exist.

During all-out war most men accept such sacrifices.

But limited war reduces this desire.

Perhaps there are two answers, one for each type of war.

One would be a volunteer military service, with adequate pay, retirement programs and other enticements that would fill the ranks of all the services with the required number of men.

The other would be a Selective Service System such as we have now and which proved satisfactory in World War II.

The volunteer program would be too costly for the nation to support in a global conflict.

It would be very expensive for a war such as the one in Vietnam.

But the cost for the limited war might make our leaders in Washington, and certainly our taxpayers at home, give more serious consideration to escalating our military assistance abroad if that were the case.

If our young men are to continue their belief in their American heritage and the precepts of democracy, our Selective Service System, or its administration, must adopt some rules which will align it more closely with our Bill of Rights.

Needed Action

Introduction of a reciprocity city income tax proposal for East Liverpool and neighboring Midland should be welcome news for affected workers in the two communities.

The plan is now being studied by councilmen here, with City Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper urging final action by Dec. 19.

The legislation would erase inequities that now exist. Its approval should be forthcoming so the revised rates can be placed into effect by the new year.

Taxation at its best is generally difficult to accept, but when what might be termed "double taxation" occurs it becomes even more upsetting.

The Roses Are Wilted

"A rose by any other name . . . ."

We doubt whether it will smell as sweet come Jan. 1 of the new year.

The plight of the Rose Bowl football game promoters this year is almost beyond comprehension.

They simply do not have an attraction — largely because of the arbitrary rules laid down by the two conferences from which the competing teams are drawn.

Purdue will be the Big Ten representative. The Boilermakers are a good football team and need offer no apologies for their 1966 record. But they are second best in the conference.

The champion is Michigan State, but the Spartans are barred from the Jan. 1 classic because they put in an appearance at the Pasadena bowl last New Year's Day.

On its record, the University of Southern California won the nod as the West Coast representative.

But the Trojans lost a football game to the runnerup, the University of California at Los Angeles.

And what is even worse, they took an unmerciful clobbering from Notre Dame in the regular season finale for both teams. And Notre Dame played a tie game with Michigan State in what was billed as the "Battle of the Titans" for the national championship.

Adding further to Rose Bowl woes, nine USC players were declared ineligible.

It will take a lot of courage for the Trojans even to show up. But even if the Boilermakers win, which they should, how hollow can a victory be?

Yes, the scent of Roses will not be as sweet on New Year's Day. But we doubt that there will be any fewer sniffers in the stands.

Sky High!

Stacks towering skyward at two area power plants serve to re-emphasize a major resource of the Upper Ohio Valley.

The utilities are keeping pace with the expanding industrial complex, assuring the power vital to development.

Some Late Returns

Though Ronald Reagan's successful contest for the governorship of California in November and the earlier election of George Murphy to the U.S. Senate has focused national attention on actors in politics, thespians aren't really taking over politics, though athletes may be.

Bob Mathias, former Stanford fullback and two-time Olympic decathalon champion was elected to the U.S. House of Representatives from California's 18th District.

Tom Gola, former professional basketball star, was elected to the House of Representatives in Pennsylvania, while another former basketball great, Clyde Lovellette, was elected sheriff of Vigo County in Indiana. Lovellette's opponent was James (Jumbo Jim) Elliott, one-time pitcher for the Dodgers and Phillies.

Now Don Perkins, Dallas Cowboys' fullback, has announced that he will retire after this season to enter politics in New Mexico.

Does anyone dare say that politics isn't a great game?

This 'n That

Fellah means "plowman" or "tiller" in Arabic. It is used in Arabic-speaking countries, especially Egypt, to designate the peasantry as opposed to the Arabs of the desert and city.

George W. Carver, Negro scientist, won international fame as a painter. He was elected a Fellow in the Royal Society of Arts in London, an honor given to few Americans.

Grin And Bear It

"I resent the slurs about my campaign contributions, boys, and I'll account for every penny spent! And the balance I'll invest in government bonds."

The Middleman

For Whom They Tolled

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON

They're putting a new name on the Paris Herald today. From now on it will be known as the International Edition of the New York Herald Tribune and Washington Post. If you ask for it under that name at the airport you'll miss your plane.

Art Buchwald

The Paris Herald has never been a crusading paper, because as a guest of the French it isn't nice to tell them how to run their capital.

But there was a time once when the paper struck a blow for freedom and I happened to be involved in the incident.

It took place when I was writing a night club column and living just off the Avenue George V on the Rue de Boccador, a cobblestone's throw from the beautiful American Pro Cathedral. At this moment some generous soul had decided to give the cathedral a gift of carillons, the likes of which had not been heard in Europe since the coronation of King Louis XIV.

THE DEAN of the cathedral, a music lover, decided to share the carillons with all of the Right Bank of Paris. And as soon as they were installed and blessed, he proceeded to have them play on the hour, every hour from 9 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock at night, with an added concert at noon and 6 o'clock.

Well, as much as I have loved the cathedral, the bells were driving me nuts. I knew a plea to the dean from a night club columnist would have little effect, so I decided to take the issue to the reading public of the Paris Herald.

I wrote a letter to the paper's mailbag under a fictitious name which read:

"I am a French housewife and my husband works on the Metro (subway) all night long. He can't sleep in the daytime because your American cathedral keeps ringing its bells. Why don't you ring them on Sundays like the Catholics do and let it go at that?"

Madame Micheline du Bois."

The letter produce real mail from many indignant Americans who didn't care about the American cathedral as much as they did about the anti-American comments. There was a series of letters demanding to know where France would be without the United States. My campaign to eliminate the bells was sidetracked for a week until I got it on the rails again with a letter which said:

"I believe the real question is not what America has done for France, but what the Americna cathedral is doing to Franco-American relations. We French don't want to be reminded what time it is. It interferes with our lunch hour. I say stop the bells or close the church.

Allan Bernheim"

THE MAIL poured in, but we only printed the anti-bell letters. One of the deacons of the church also happened to be the general manager of the paper. He knew vaguely I had something to do with the anti-carillon campaign and he said, "Don't you have any letters for the bells?"

I said, "Of course."

"Well, why don't we print one?" he said angrily.

I rushed to my typewriter and wrote the final letter of my campaign. It read:

"Dear Sir, I don't know what all the fuss is about the bells. They have never bothered me. Guilio Ascerelli, Rome, Italy."

The general manager gave orders that no more letters were to be printed about the bells. But lo, a few days later they stopped ringing on the hour and only rang at noon. It was a great victory for a free press. And for the next three years the Paris Herald's night club columnist slept on the Rue de Boccador like a baby.

Season To Be Jolly . . .

By William L. Hopper

'Tis the season to be jolly and that means gift buying time.

For anyone who somehow has missed the harrowing experience of buying a product at a reduced price by taking it unassembled . . . let this be a warning—don't do it.

That is if you want this to stay the jolly season, don't do it.

The most likely person to be tempted by the in-carton buy is the loving father who wishes to give his child something nice, but wants to make it a bit more personal by putting it together himself. Of course, dad doesn't mind saving that extra buck either.

In hopes of saving someone some trouble this season, let's follow a happy buyer home after he has made his buy.

He patiently whiles away the evening smoking his pipe, relaxing and reading the newspaper.

Finally, the youngster is in bed and the house is quiet.

He saunters over to the hall closet and takes out the heavy cardboard box.

AT THIS POINT his kitchen queen enters. "Need any help dear?"

"No thanks. I can whip 'Mighty Mansion' doll house together in a jiffy," is his confident reply.

She retreats into the kitchen.

Instilled with confidence and the creative urge, the buyer rips apart the carton with reckless abandon in the middle of the living room. The job doesn't look too tough. There are maybe a dozen pieces to assemble.

The first obstacle pounces on the intrepid constructioneer with all the subtly of a 240-pound defensive tackle. He can't find any directions.

A near-frantic search turns up the faintly mimeographed diagram stuck to a glop of paint on the underside of one of the metal pieces.

First step: lay out all the parts and see if any is missing. Check.

Rubbing his hands with enthusiastic anticipation, he begins. Side A is placed against side B and so on.

Pretty soon he sees he is going to have to make some minor adjustments because hole D is not in the right place to meet up with hole E.

About now a little perspiration appears on his brow and there is a slight ache between his shoulder blades.

BUT PROGRESS IS being made. After about 30 minutes one screw is firmly in place.

By holding two pieces between his feet and using his left elbow and hand to provide proper spacing, our assemblyman closes in fast on the second screw.

Just as he applies the final twist, there is an unexpected slip and the screwdriver point leaves a long jet vapor trail of peeled paint.

And so it goes for five hours.

The kitchen ruler has long since retired, but the echo of her sarcastic laugh lingers on.

With a wisp of bedraggled hair plastered to a wet forehead, our mechanic is about to place the last screw in place.

His back aches, his head aches and it is way past bedtime, but he smiles. He is just about to conquer the enemy.

But wait, he is on his hands and knees, running his hands over the carpet. His nose is close to the floor as he flings aside the pieces of carton and peers under the nearly-complete doll house.

He can't find that last screw.

HIS BLOOD PRESSURE mounts as he divides his wrath between the manufacturer, distributor and the unobtrusive project looking at him with its missing screw Cyclops eye.

But he is not defeated.

A quick trip to the kitchen queen's "odds and ends" drawer turns up a screw of the right length.

His engineering masterpiece safely hidden away, he trudges off to bed. His feeling of pride is diminished considerably by his disillusionment.

He realizes that he isn't going to feel like going to work the next day and he already has divided his savings on the purchase by the assembly time and found he was laboring all evening for 22 cents an hour.

Keep our hero in mind the next time you consider one of those "boxed bargains." You just might get more than you bargained for.

Pearl Harbor

By David Lawrence

Things That Might Have Been

While much attention is currently being given to the anniversary of the surprise attack on Pearl Harbor 25 years ago, little is generally known, even today, about what really happened in the months immediately preceding the outbreak.

American officials had a feeling at the time that an attack was imminent, but military men thought it would come in the vicinity of the Philippines.

A few weeks before the assault on Pearl Harbor, this correspondent had a long talk here with Admiral Nomura, the Japanese ambassador to the United States, who was plainly worried about a possible war. He felt it would be senseless and privately remarked:

"If war comes, you will win. But war settles nothing that peaceful negotiation at the opportune moment could not settle much better."

SUBSEQUENTLY A MEMBER of the Japanese Parliament who had graduated from an American college called on this writer in Washington and explained that, while the military clique had virtually taken over in Japan, there still was a chance for peace. The Japanese ambassador and the visitor from Japan later talked at length with this correspondent who urged that all such information be disclosed just as frankly to the Department of State.

Many years later, former President Hoover, upon learning of the strenuous efforts made by Ambassador Nomura to prevent a war, wrote him a letter in which Mr. Hoover said:

"In making a study of the period when you so earnestly and ably strove to prevent a war in the Pacific, I find myself time and again filled with admiration for your efforts. And what a better world this would be had your urging been heeded!"

ports in general, with Council President Allen Baldwin commenting that "the mayor's reports to the city and council have been lax."

Other members took issue with Davidson's insistence that requests for disbursals from the general fund be specific as to which of the 14 contingency allotments each purchase should come from.

During the discussion, it was charged that Council "had never seen the true picture of the city's finances" during the first year of the present term.

One member remarked, "This council has been hog-tied!"

Also relative to finances, the lawmakers approved a motion for submission of an ordinance to raise the Civil Service Commission clerk's salary to $240 a year.

Kenneth Bell, county auditor, submitted an affidavit explaining that $142.60 will be removed from funds due the city and be turned over to the County Board of Elections for ballot and legal expenses in the November election. City Solicitor Delmar T. O'Hara explained the action was routine.

THE FINANCE committee will investigate a request by Treasurer Tom Grafton to increase the salary of treasurer to $100 monthly before the filing date for candidates to that post.

The Columbiana County Law Library notified Council, through a letter from its secretary, William H. Vodrey Jr., East Liverpool attorney, that the city is in arrears in its payments for support of the library. The letter said the city must by law forward a share of its State Highway Patrol arrest receipts to the library, but "for some time has not done so." Councilmen agreed to look into the matter when they confer soon with the auditor.

James Phillips, claims and rules chairman, read replies to a letter he had sent earlier to the Pennsylvania Railroad and the Ohio Public Utilities Commission concerning an unattended crossing at 18th St. The railroad said the matter is being studied and a railroad inspector for the PUC asked that he be informed if the city was unable to receive action from the railroad.

In other business, a voice vote indicated councilmen favored concrete surfacing for the new Route 7 through Wellsville. The action came following a communication from the mayor asking their preference and that State Highway Department be notified of the decision.

THE STREET and light committee agreed to investigate complaints of wrecked cars parked on the sidewalks in the area of Clark Ave. and 19th St.

George Lawton indicated some residents of the Buckeye Ave. area were unhappy because CATV officials had obtained Council's approval to bypass that area for technical reasons. Lawton said he felt the action "unfair" and should be looked into.

O'Hara said the county auditor had removed from the tax duplicate some 12 or 13 pieces of city-owned property which were eligible for exemption.

Rose was instructed to draft a letter to Gov. James A. Rhodes and the Ohio Historical Association requesting that a proposed pottery museum be placed in Wellsville. O'Hara said pottery in Ohio was launched in Wellsville during the 1830's by one of the original Wells family.

10-Day Term Given Driver

A Mahoning County man was sentenced to a 10-day County Jail term and fined $25 and costs today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff when he pleaded guilty to charges of operating an auto without a driver's license and speeding 80 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone.

He is Harry Thomas of Struthers, who was cited by the State Highway Patrol Saturday on Route 7.

Thomas forfeited a $57.50 bond on the two charges Monday when he failed to appear for a hearing. He was brought to court today on a bench warrant. Questioned by the judge, Thomas said he did not appear because he believed the bond forfeiture relieved him of the responsibility.

Commenting on the two charges, the judge told Thomas: "All the ingredients of a fatal crash were here — an unlicensed motorist driving at a high rate of speed!"

Meanwhile, the court ordered a 30-day license suspension for Linwood Wilson of 2100 Crawford Ave. and also fined him $20 and costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge of speeding 90 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on the East Liverpool - Wellsville Rd. Wilson was cited by the patrol Sunday at 5:30 p.m.

Larry B. Marshall of Sherwood Ave. pleaded guilty to a charge of operating an auto with a faulty muffler. The judge continued the case until Friday on Marshall's promise to have repairs made. Marshall was cited Tuesday night on E. 5th St. by the patrol.

Post-Election Matters Occupy Hancock Court

The Hancock County Court of Commissioners tended to post-election matters and made plans for holiday closings during its meeting Tuesday at the Courthouse in New Cumberland.

The justice of the peace surety bond posted by Lloyd Nalley of 514 Grant St., Newell, successful Republican candidate for the Grant District office, was approved. The $3,500 bond, a requirement for serving as justice of the peace, is written for the full term.

THE APPLICATIONS of Mrs. Donna Nalley, wife of Squire Nalley, and Leonard Alpert of Weirton as notaries were approved.

The county clerk was authorized to take action as prescribed by the state secretary relative to voters who have changed residence and deceased voters. A notification of cancellation of registration will be sent in applicable cases, with provision made to allow the voter to show cause why the cancellation should not become effective, it was explained.

Courthouse offices will close Friday noon and reopen Tuesday morning on both the Christmas and New Year holiday weekends.

Mrs. Mary Helba was hired as an employe for the tax office. The transfer of Mrs. Betty Blake, another employe, to the radio room in the sheriff's office was approved.

The appointment of Joseph T. Ference of Weirton as field deputy was approved upon the recommendation of Sheriff Joseph Rodak.

A letter was received from Mr. and Mrs. William Enochs of 50 2nd St., Newell, expressing appreciation to county officials for their assistance after their 10-year-old daughter, Donna, was bitten by the family dog, afterwards determined to be rabid.

A copy of the letter was forwarded to the Health Department.

George Herron, in charge of the Pughtown Cemetery, was authorized to obtain bids for repairs on the cemetery truck.

George Konchar, county clerk, was authorized to have wooden shelving installed in the basement of his office.

All three commissioners were present. James Finley, chairman, presided.

ports in general, with Council President Allen Baldwin commenting that "the mayor's reports to the city and council have been lax."

Other members took issue with Davidson's insistence that requests for disbursals from the general fund be specific as to which of the 14 contingency allotments each purchase should come from.

During the discussion, it was charged that Council "had never seen the true picture of the city's finances" during the first year of the present term.

One member remarked, "This council has been hog-tied!"

Also relative to finances, the lawmakers approved a motion for submission of an ordinance to raise the Civil Service Commission clerk's salary to $240 a year.

Kenneth Bell, county auditor, submitted an affidavit explaining that $142.60 will be removed from funds due the city and be turned over to the County Board of Elections for ballot and legal expenses in the November election. City Solicitor Delmar T. O'Hara explained the action was routine.

THE FINANCE committee will investigate a request by Treasurer Tom Grafton to increase the salary of treasurer to $100 monthly before the filing date for candidates to that post.

The Columbiana County Law Library notified Council, through a letter from its secretary, William H. Vodrey Jr., East Liverpool attorney, that the city is in arrears in its payments for support of the library. The letter said the city must by law forward a share of its State Highway Patrol arrest receipts to the library, but "for some time has not done so." Councilmen agreed to look into the matter when they confer soon with the auditor.

James Phillips, claims and rules chairman, read replies to a letter he had sent earlier to the Pennsylvania Railroad and the Ohio Public Utilities Commission concerning an unattended crossing at 18th St. The railroad said the matter is being studied and a railroad inspector for the PUC asked that he be informed if the city was unable to receive action from the railroad.

In other business, a voice vote indicated councilmen favored concrete surfacing for the new Route 7 through Wellsville. The action came following a communication from the mayor asking their preference and that State Highway Department be notified of the decision.

THE STREET and light committee agreed to investigate complaints of wrecked cars parked on the sidewalks in the area of Clark Ave. and 19th St.

George Lawton indicated some residents of the Buckeye Ave. area were unhappy because CATV officials had obtained Council's approval to bypass that area for technical reasons. Lawton said he felt the action "unfair" and should be looked into.

O'Hara said the county auditor had removed from the tax duplicate some 12 or 13 pieces of city-owned property which were eligible for exemption.

Rose was instructed to draft a letter to Gov. James A. Rhodes and the Ohio Historical Association requesting that a proposed pottery museum be placed in Wellsville. O'Hara said pottery in Ohio was launched in Wellsville during the 1830's by one of the original Wells family.

10-Day Term Given Driver

A Mahoning County man was sentenced to a 10-day County Jail term and fined $25 and costs today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff when he pleaded guilty to charges of operating an auto without a driver's license and speeding 80 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone.

He is Harry Thomas of Struthers, who was cited by the State Highway Patrol Saturday on Route 7.

Thomas forfeited a $57.50 bond on the two charges Monday when he failed to appear for a hearing. He was brought to court today on a bench warrant. Questioned by the judge, Thomas said he did not appear because he believed the bond forfeiture relieved him of the responsibility.

Commenting on the two charges, the judge told Thomas: "All the ingredients of a fatal crash were here — an unlicensed motorist driving at a high rate of speed!"

Meanwhile, the court ordered a 30-day license suspension for Linwood Wilson of 2100 Crawford Ave. and also fined him $20 and costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge of speeding 90 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on the East Liverpool - Wellsville Rd. Wilson was cited by the patrol Sunday at 5:30 p.m.

Larry B. Marshall of Sherwood Ave. pleaded guilty to a charge of operating an auto with a faulty muffler. The judge continued the case until Friday on Marshall's promise to have repairs made. Marshall was cited Tuesday night on E. 5th St. by the patrol.

Faculty Warned Of Future Strikes

California U. Boycott Off

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The University of California's classroom boycott was called off Tuesday night after regents threatened to fire any faculty members who strike in the future.

The truce flag was hoisted after members of the AFL-CIO American Federation of Teachers, which represent many teaching assistants on campus, overwhelmingly voted suspension of their strike. It was labeled "conditional," however, depending on negotiations with the administration.

Student strike committeemen immediately called a "temporary recess" to their boycott, saying they would nevertheless persist in demands for campus reform. The committee's demands include advocacy rights on campus for certain nonstudent groups, and a promise that outside police never again be called to the campus.

Committee action came after some 6,000 students at a noon rally voted to return to classes providing the teachers federation called off its part of the walkout.

The student committee called for a boycott Nov. 30 after a sit-in and fight started over the presence at the Student Union of a Navy recruiting table. Alameda County sheriff's deputies were called by an administration officer and 10 persons were arrested, including six nonstudents.

Restoration of an uneasy peace to the 27,500-student campus came under added pressure of final exams which are only five days off.

A tough resolution calling for the firing of university personnel and faculty members who strike the university in the future came during an emergency session of regents at Oakland.

Chairman of Regents Theodore R. Meyer said: "We're sick and tired of rule violations at Berkeley." Regents, he added, "have reached the end of the road."

Three of the 18 regents present, Edwin Pauley, Laurence J. Kennedy Jr., and John I. Canaday, had favored firing the teachers who had been striking since the beginning of the crisis, but Meyer and a heavy majority of regents were against retroactive punishment.

Regents sided with Chancellor Roger W. Heyns, who opposed retroactive punishment. Heyns went into the meeting with overwhelming support from the Academic Senate, made up of faculty members, in his refusal to negotiate with the student strike group as long as nonstudents were present.

This referred to Mario Savio, a nonstudent member of the committee who was among those arrested last week. Savio, as a student, led Free Speech Movement demonstrations for greater student political liberty on campus in 1964, resulting in 700 arrests. Savio finally was dropped from the committee.

Double Homicide Seen In Shooting

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—The fatal shooting of a Canton couple in their home Tuesday night was described by police as an apparent double homicide.

The victims were identified as Lester McPhee and his common-law wife, Flora, both about 58. Coroner G. S. Shaheen said both had been shot in the chest.

They were found by police who were called by neighbors after they had heard a disturbance in the house.

Police said there were some empty shells in the room where McPhee and his wife were discovered, but that no gun was found.

McPhee was known to have kept large sums of money at his home, police said.

Professor Claimed

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Dr. Peter H. Odegard, 65, professor of political science at the University of California in Berkeley, died Tuesday, apparently of a heart attack. Odegard, former president of Reed College in Portland, Ore., joined the UC staff as chairman of the Department of Political Science in 1948 and held that position until 1956.

WINTER ENGAGEMENT

While the spring of the year is the time-honored period of love and engagements, the winter months are a close rival for the announcement of betrothals. One reason might be the emphasis on social galas and holiday parties. In our own community, many of our loveliest young ladies soon will be showing their diamond engagement rings to friends and relatives.

Since the engagement diamond draws attention to the hand, it should be selected with the size and shape of the wearer's hand in mind. For example, a small ring tends to over emphasize the larger hand. This doesn't mean that a person with a large hand must have a huge stone; it simply means that the setting should be complimentary in relationship to the hand. If a fairly large ring is desired by the girl with a dainty hand, a dome-shaped ring, or one with the stone set high, may be most becoming.

An oblong ring looks very attractive on a hand with short fingers. A setting which runs across the finger will cut the length of a long, narrow hand. A very popular cut of diamond for shorter or thicker fingers is the marquise, named after an elegant woman, Marquise de Montespan, who was the mistress of Louis XIV. She ordered the crown jeweler to cut her ring diamonds with a point at each end like a boat. This cut became popular since it gives the hands a graceful, tapered appearance. If you are diamond ring shopping, let us show you the various diamond cuts and give you our suggestion on the right style for you.

Potter Hurt In Wellsville

A Wellsville man injured at work was in "fair" condition today at City Hospital, where two other area residents were treated Tuesday after separate mishaps.

David Jackson of 607 Henry Ave., Wellsville, suffered a possible skull fracture and back injuries when a door fell on him at the Sterling China Co., Wellsville.

Fred Staats of the Rolling Stone Trailer Park of New Martinsville, W. Va., received a piece of steel in his eye while working on Putnam St. for the Ohio Pipeline Construction Co. of Newark.

Roger Kessler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Kessler of Hammondsville R. D. 1, received burns of both hands and fingers on a register at home.

Teacher Opens Public Battle On Suspension

ROYAL OAK, Mich. (AP) — "If I'm a bad teacher I want to be fired," says William L. Bennett who has opened a public battle over his suspension as a teacher in Royal Oak.

"If I'm not a bad teacher I want to be rid of administrative interference so I can teach. It's as simple as that," says Bennett, 36, who has taught for 13 years in the Detroit suburb.

Donald M. Currie, superintendent of schools, suspended Bennett Oct. 7, charging him with 19 counts of defiance of administrative orders and bizarre teaching methods. The charges date back to April 1965.

After the school board upheld the suspension Bennett demanded, and was granted, a public hearing, which has been adjourned until Dec. 14.

Charges against Bennett include his refusal to explain a complaint that he allegedly manhandled the daughter of a school board member, that he insulted administrators in the presence of students, refused to perform nonteaching duties in the library and lunchroom and deliberately had himself arrested by driving his car without 1966 license plates.

Bennett, who said he gave out lollipops as incentives to his students, maintained a paperback book library in his American history classroom so pupils could read without the "stuffy setting of the library with all the rules about taking them out and returning them."

He made available shoeshine kits and manicure sets "to give the eightballs something to do." He said, "If a kid is going to waste his time and not study he might as well go out of class with his shoes shined or his nails trimmed."

Bennett defended the arrest for improper license plates as a "delicious game."

He said he drove around in 1966 with 1965 license tags on his car until "I finally made some hand signals at a patrol car and they (police) gave me a ticket."

He said the arrest incident was designed "to lead to classroom discussions of police work and equality under the law."

New Plan Pushed On Phone System

LISBON — Local service clubs are beginning promotion of a proposal for no-toll telephone service with Leetonia, Columbiana and Salem.

Charles McKenzie of the Lisbon Area Chamber of Commerce discussed the plan for fellow Rotarians Tuesday night when the scheduled program failed to materialize at the dinner meeting in the Wick Hotel.

To provide a direct-dial service among the four communities, the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. monthly rates would be increased $1.50 for business phones and 25 cents for homes.

McKenzie said the Business and Professional Women's Club will undertake a telephone campaign in support of the plan prior to a public vote early next year.

A 70 per cent affirmative vote is required for approval. McKenzie said the setup could be completed during 1968 if the communities agree.

President Jack Pozenel was in charge. Sylvester Brickley of Canal Fulton was a guest.

McConnell Makes Debut As Potter Coach Friday Night

Starting Lineup Still Not Certain; Smith Leads 5 Letter Winners

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

It may be almost tipoff time Friday night before Coach Clinton McConnell is certain of his starting lineup for the opener with Pittsburgh Westinghouse at Memorial Auditorium.

McConnell, who coached last season at Ashtabula Edgewood, will make his debut as Potter coach Friday night, but as of early this week the new Potter mentor still was undecided on the starting five.

—:—

AT PRESENT nine players are running fairly equal, so McConnell pointed out that "the coaching staff is taking a wait-and-see outlook on the coming season."

"Right now we are taking a lot of time to adjust, since the system of play is brand new to the boys. We think with real hard work, hustle and sacrifice we can have a good ball club. There is still much work to be done."

"Everything depends on how fast we come along. We will be at our weakest the first four games, all against strong opponents," McConnell said.

—:—

"WE THINK our main task at the moment is to build a defensively strong team. Our defensive reactions are weak and the defense has been slow coming around."

McConnell pointed out that 70 per cent of the practice time has been spent on defense.

"We have several plus factors. There is the physical size of our club, the team is hungry for victory and the players are working very hard.

"The spirit has been good and we will play aggressive basketball."

—:—

MCCONNELL has five lettermen returning from last year's squad which finished the season with eight straight victories before losing in the Sectional tournament final.

Leading the group of returnees is Vern Smith, talented 6-1 senior, who McConnell admits is one of the better players he has ever coached.

In Smith, McConnell has last season's leading scorer. Smith poured in 390 points in 21 games for the Potters, including a school record of 43 against Niles. An all-District choice, his average for the season was 18.7.

Another letter winner is Mitchell Jones, a 6-5 junior, who showed rapid improvement toward the end of his sophomore season.

THREE backcourt men who played regular in 1965-66 are Earl Diddle, a clever 5-9 junior, who broke into the starting lineup midway through his sophomore season; Darryl Herring, 5-6 senior, and Denny Smith, 5-10 senior.

McConnell indicated that all five lettermen will be playing a lot in his system, but four other players of good size are battling for starting jobs.

The quartet saw some varsity action last season, but not quite enough to earn a letter.

In this group are Bruce Christian, 6-4 junior, who played only the last half of the season after being ineligible the first half; Bill (Pete) Carter 6-1 senior, who responded with good board work; Mike McVay, 6-1 junior, and Rex Campbell, 6-2 junior.

—:—

ANOTHER senior who has shown improvement is Dick Witherow, who stands 6-5 and joins Jones as the tallest players on the squad.

The Potters have enough height on hand to start one of the tallest ELHS teams in many seasons.

McConnell has been working with a varsity squad of 14. Only six are seniors, with the remainder juniors.

Other prospects are Phil Talbott, a 6-1 senior, and juniors Dave Pridemore, 5-6, John Stepian, 6-foot, and Al Foster 5-11. Stepian and Foster did not play basketball last season, but could be of some help, McConnell said.

Pridemore, Stepian and Foster probably will pay on the reserve team, McConnell said.

—:—

MCCONNELL explained the 15 members of the reserve squad are all sophomores. Frank Melchiorre, who coached at East Junior High last season, is the new Potter assistant, have charge of the jayvees.

Following Friday's opener with Westinghouse, the Potters will travel to Alliance to meet a strong Aviator team.

McConnell pointed out that Alliance will have had three games under its belt by Saturday. The Aviators already have won two, and were impressive in both.

—:—

THE POTTER coach feels Alliance will be one of the leading contenders for the Big 8 Conference title this season.

The 36-year old McConnell was named head basketball coach here after Frank Chan, who compiled a winning season, was fired in June. Chan is now head coach at Beaver Falls High School.

At Ashtabula Edgewood, McConnell compiled a near .500 mark in three seasons. His best record came during the 1964-65 campaign, a 16-6 record, with his team runnerup in the District tournament.

Last season Edgewood finished 9-11 and his three-year total there was 31-30.

The 1966-67 ELHS schedule shows five new opponents — Westinghouse, in the opener, Columbus East, Youngstown East, Warren Western Reserve and Pittsburgh Fifth Ave.

The schedule follows:

Dec. 9	Pitts. Westinghouse, home
Dec. 10	Alliance, away

49ers' Coach Lauds Starr Who Is NFL Back Of Week

NEW YORK (AP) — "If Green Bay goes on to win the championship, they ought to give Bart Starr about 10 shares."

That was the comment of Jack Christiansen of the San Francisco 49ers to Ken Hartnett Associated Press Sports Writer, after Starr led the Packers to a 20-7 victory over the 49ers Sunday.

"Bart probably is the best quarterback in football today," said Christiansen, "and before he gets through — which I hope is soon — he may be recognized as the greatest of them all."

Vince Lombardi also paid his compliments to his star quarterback.

"The game is right with Starr," said the Packer coach. "He played a tremendous game. There is no other story."

Starr completed 13 of 24 passes for 236 yards, including an 83-yard touchdown toss to Carroll Dale on the third play of the game. "Lucky," said Starr.

The canny veteran also sneaked home from the one for another TD. After the 49ers bounced back to make a game of it again, Starr hit Dale with a 48-yard pass that led to an insurance touchdown by Elijah Pitts.

This performance prompted The Associated Press to name Starr the Offensive Player of the Week in the National Football League.

49ers' Coach Lauds Starr Who Is NFL Back Of Week

NEW YORK (AP) — "If Green Bay goes on to win the championship, they ought to give Bart Starr about 10 shares."

That was the comment of Jack Christiansen of the San Francisco 49ers to Ken Hartnett Associated Press Sports Writer, after Starr led the Packers to a 20-7 victory over the 49ers Sunday.

"Bart probably is the best quarterback in football today," said Christiansen, "and before he gets through — which I hope is soon — he may be recognized as the greatest of them all."

Vince Lombardi also paid his compliments to his star quarterback.

"The game is right with Starr," said the Packer coach. "He played a tremendous game. There is no other story."

Starr completed 13 of 24 passes for 236 yards, including an 83-yard touchdown toss to Carroll Dale on the third play of the game. "Lucky," said Starr.

The canny veteran also sneaked home from the one for another TD. After the 49ers bounced back to make a game of it again, Starr hit Dale with a 48-yard pass that led to an insurance touchdown by Elijah Pitts.

This performance prompted The Associated Press to name Starr the Offensive Player of the Week in the National Football League.

Atlanta Back Is Defensive Star Of Week

By RON SPEER
Associated Press Sports Writer

ATLANTA (AP) — Being knocked flat on his back by a block thrown by a quarterback is credited with firing up Bob Riggle, who ignited the Atlanta Falcons' upset of Minnesota last Sunday.

"Bob was really humiliated, and the coaches and the other players rubbed it in all week before the game with the Vikings," said John Symank, coach of Atlanta's defensive backs.

"We told him we had never heard of anybody being knocked down by a quarterback.

"I think all that needling really put a hump in his back, and he came through with his greatest game against the Vikings," Symank said.

The embarrassing incident for Riggle came the previous Sunday, when the Chicago Bears beat Atlanta.

The Falcons' safety was chasing Gale Sayers when Chicago quarterback Rudy Bukich surprised him by throwing a block which knocked Riggle over backwards.

Riggle, who has surprised the Falcons all season, made up for that stunner by tearing up the Vikings Sunday.

The Penn State graduate intercepted a pass and returned it 62 yards for the Falcons' first touchdown runback, recovered a fumble on the Vikings' one which Atlanta converted into a touchdown, and intercepted another pass.

Riggle also was credited with seven tackles and 10 assists as the Falcons scored their second victory of the season, 20-13.

His heroics earned him honors as Defensive Player of the Week in the National Football League.

The University of North Dakota hockey team is captained by Jerry Lafond, defenseman from Dawson Creek, B.C., and wingman Dave Janaway of Portage La Prairie, Man.

Pirates Get Man They Wanted In Pitcher Ribant

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates have acquired pitcher Dennis Ribant from the New York Mets, pulling off their third major trade within a week in an all-out effort to fashion a pennant-winner in 1967.

Ribant, a right-hander who was the Mets' top pitcher with an 11-9 mark and 3.21 earned run average, and outfielder Gary Kolb came to Pittsburgh Tuesday in exchange for veteran pitcher Don Cardwell and outfielder Don Bosch. Cardwell was 6-6 in 32 games.

"Ribant is the man we wanted," said Pirate general manager Joe L. Brown. "He is one of the fine young pitchers in the league and we are tremendously pleased to get him. He is a good pitcher now and has a chance to be an outstanding one."

The Ribant trade complements two other exchanges which appear to have considerably strengthened Pittsburgh, which faltered at the end of the season and was eliminated in the last few days, finishing third behind pennant-winning Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Last week Brown got pitcher Juan Pizarro from the Chicago White Sox for cash and shortstop Maury Wills from Los Angeles for third baseman Bob Bailey and infielder Gene Michael.

But Brown, the man who engineered all three deals, isn't making any 1967 predictions.

"I think it's hard to win in in the winter," Brown said. "We had a fine year last year and we hope to have a better year in 1967."

Blaik, Carpenter Honored At Football Awards Fete

NEW YORK (AP) — There were about 100 people in the room and most of them were football heroes of the first order. Fifty of them were members of the Hall of Fame.

There were Jay Berwanger and Dick Kazmaier and Duffy Daugherty and Ara Parseghian and Pappy Waldorf and Jim Crowley and Pete Pihos and Charley Conerly and Capt. Bill Carpenter and Red Blaik and you name him.

And there were Lt. Col. Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis. Somehow it wasn't too surprising that they drifted together in a small corner of the crowded room, and, somehow, it wasn't too surprising to find them talking football.

It was 20 years after their halcyon seasons and they were talking about the football teams of today vs. the greats — notable their Army team — of two decades ago.

"Today's teams are bigger, stronger, faster than we were," said Davis, now director of special events for the Los Angeles Times and, 20 years ago, the Mr. Outside of the inside-outside combination that has never been equalled.

"I don't want to run against the Michigan States and the Notre Dames of today."

"The big difference between our teams and the teams today is the pass," said Blanchard, an Air Force officer. "We didn't throw as much and we didn't throw as well as they do.

"And there's the two-platoon difference. We played both ways. Now, they play one way. But, man for man, I'd match our teams against the best today.

"I'd run against them." And there was a big grin. "I don't know how well I'd do, but I'd run against them."

The two were on hand for the annual Awards Dinner of the Football Foundation and Hall of Fame Tuesday night at a midtown hotel. Col. Earl (Red) Blaik was the honored guest and the recipient of the group's Gold Medal Award for lengthy and meritorius service to the game.

Capt. Bill Carpenter, Army's famed Lonely End of the late '50s and now a Viet Nam hero, received the Distinguished American Award. Ten men were inducted into the Hall of Fame, the MacArthur Bowl was awarded jointly to Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State and Ara Parseghian of Notre Dame and eight young football players were awarded scholar-athlete awards.

New Hall of Fame members are Charley Conerly of Mississippi, Jim Crowley and Rip Miller of Notre Dame, Norm Van Brocklin of Oregon, Dick Kazmaier of Princeton, the late Albie Booth of Yale, Aaron Rosenberg of Southern California, Chuck Carney of Illinois, Pete Pihos of Indiana and Coach Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf of Northwestern and California.

The scholar-athletes honored were Jim Lynch of Notre Dame, Charles Peters of Princeton, Bobby Etter of Georgia, William Powell of Missouri, Allen Richards of Texas Christian, Mike Ryan of Washington, Tom Allen of Bowdoin and Stanley Juk of South Carolina.

Alcindor Isn't Only Soph Star, Louisville Has One

By The Associated Press

Lew Alcindor of UCLA isn't the only sophomore in college basketball to make an impressive varsity debut. There's also Butch Beard at the University of Louisville.

Beard's debut Saturday night was overshadowed by Alcindor's 56 points as the top-ranked Bruins crushed Southern California 105-90. Beard got 27 as Louisville defeated Georgetown, Ky., 99-81.

Beard, 6-foot-3 and weighing 175 pounds, had the stage all to himself Tuesday night with UCLA and Alcindor awaiting the weekend invasion of the Duke Blue Devils. The soph from Hardinsburg, Ky., demonstrated his opening night performance was no fluke with another sparkling home court effort.

He tossed in 21 points to again top the Louisville scoring as the Cardinals, fourth-ranked Nationally to UCLA in The Associated Press poll, whipped Southwestern Louisiana 107-63.

Texas Western, the defending national champions and No. 2 in the AP poll, made it three in a row with an easy 61-30 conquest of East Texas State at El Paso. The Miners played without their star, Bobby Joe Hill, who was suspended indefinitely before the game for disciplinary reasons. Coach Don Haskins termed the suspension "temporary."

Wake Forest nipped Virginia Tech 78-75 and Minnesota edged Drake 71-68 in two home court overtime triumphs while on the road Dayton downed Miami of Ohio 80-71 and Princeton beat Villanova 48-37.

Abe Aikins' three-point play in the last 34 seconds gave Hofstra a 71-69 home court victory over Seton Hall. Tom Ringlemann came off the bench and scored three quick baskets to spark Syracuse over Cornell 99-67 in another home court triumph.

In other leading games, all home court victories, San Francisco beat Hardin Simmons 72-61, Southern Methodist edged Oklahoma City 81-78, Baylor downed Centenary 91-73, Auburn overcame Louisiana Tech 88-77, Davidson defeated Furman 84-71, George Washington whipped Richmond 78-68 and New Orleans Loyola rolled over Texas Christian 91-75.

On the road, St. Joseph's of Philadelphia edged Georgetown, D.C., 86-82 and Texas routed Louisiana State 114-78.

Oak Glen's Wrestling Team Opens Thursday

Oak Glen's wrestling team, with six lettermen in the lineup, will open the 1966-67 season Thursday night meeting Brilliant on the Oak Glen mats.

A reserve match will start at 6:15 p. m. with the varsity match at 7 p. m.

Coach Vince Monseau shows six veterans returning including Rick Price wrestling at 103, Jack Porter at 112, Jack Everly at 120, Ralph Louk at 127, Fred Miller at 133 and Dave Lowther at 145. Price and Everly are co-captains.

Other members of the teams who will open the season Thursday include Mike Swartzmiller at 95 pounds, Randy Hobbs 112, Dean Wern, 138, Jim Myers, 154, Allen Six, 165, Glenn Greathouse 180 and Kit Carson, heavyweight.

Monseau is being assisted this season by Dick Burig.

Frisco, Celtics Gain Decisions In NBA Play

NEW YORK (AP) — The rim on one of the baskets at Madison Square Garden is higher than it is on the other one.

The authority for that statement is San Francisco's hot-shooting Rick Barry and the way he was popping baskets through both hoops Tuesday night, he ought to know.

Barry, the National Basketball Association's leading scorer, drilled 47 points home, leading San Francisco to a 126-116 victory over the New York Knickerbockers in the second game of an NBA doubleheader.

In the opener, Boston finally snapped its Detroit hex, ripping the Pistons 130-111 and breaking a three-game losing streak against them. In the only other NBA game played, Philadelphia defeated Chicago 129-119.

Barry scored 22 points in the first half, 20 of them on field goals, as the Warriors raced to 71-55 lead. He made only four field goals in the second half, mostly because of repeated fouling by New York and those different rims.

"The baskets we were shooting at in the first half had a higher rim and I was arching my shots to score," Barry said. "After we changed in the second half, I didn't compensate for the other basket, which has a lower rim.

"I was getting my position and my shots and there were times when I was sure my shots were going in but they'd just rim the basket and fall away."

Barry spent most of the third period at the foul line, sinking 14 of 15 attempts, a Madison Square Garden record.

Bill Russell played all but five minutes of Boston's first game victory over Detroit. It ended a three-game drought for the Celtics against the Pistons and Russell pointed to Sam Jones as the man who made the difference.

Jones, nursing a sore left hand, came off the bench and scored 23 points for Boston.

Philadelphia playing at home, got 31 points from Chamberlain and 21 from Chet Walker for its 23rd victory in 25 starts. It was the seventh straight victory for the 76ers who lead Boston in the Eastern Division by 4½ games.

Hal Greer had 26 for Philadelphia and became the 16th player in NBA history to pass the 12,000-point plateau. Keith Erickson led Chicago with 28.

Welter King Named As Fighter Of Month

NEW YORK (AP) — Curtis Cokes was named Fighter of the Month for November by Ring magazine today for his decisive victory over France's Jean Josselin at Dallas, Tex., in a welterweight title bout.

Cokes, the World Boxing Association's champion, won almost universal recognition as successor to Emile Griffith, now the middleweight champion, as king of the 147-pound division.

In its monthly ratings, Ring shook up the heavyweight list. Two newcomers, Joe Frazier of Philadelphia at No. 6 and Mexico's Manuel Ramos, at No. 10, replaced Amos Lincoln and the retired Cleveland Williams.

The English Parliament was established in 1265.

1968 PIAA Cage Finals Scheduled For Pitt Arena

HARRISBURG (AP) — The 1968 state scholastic basketball finals will be held in the Pittsburgh Arena, the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association said Tuesday.

Theodore R. Wagner Jr., assistant executive director of the PIAA, said the Class B and C championship games would be played as a doubleheader Friday night, March 22, and the Class A final the next night.

In past years, the Class A final has been played in the State Farm show Arena in Harrisburg. The PIAA said it favors the Pittsburgh Arena because it has a large seating capacity.

The 1967 Class A championship game will be played at the arena in Harrisburg with the sites of the Class B and C games still undetermined. All three will be played March 18.

George Blanda of the Houston Oilers, Babe Parilli of the Boston Patriots and Joe Namath of the New York Jets played college ball under Alabama coach Paul (Bear) Bryant. Bryant had Blanda and Parilli at Kentucky.

Miami Coach In Line For Wisconsin Post

MADISON, Wis. (AP)— The University of Wisconsin Athletic Board held a closed-door meeting Tuesday night to make its recommendation on who the school should name as its next head football coach.

Among the nine candidates are Coach Bo Schembechler of Miami of Ohio and Notre Dame assistant coach John Ray, who formerly was head coach at John Carroll.

The board said no announcement on a selection will be made until the choice is ratified by the university's regents Friday.

When the Detroit Tigers finished third in 1966 it was their best American League position since 1961 when they were second to the New York Yankees.

1968 PIAA Cage Finals Scheduled For Pitt Arena

HARRISBURG (AP) — The 1968 state scholastic basketball finals will be held in the Pittsburgh Arena, the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association said Tuesday.

Theodore R. Wagner Jr., assistant executive director of the PIAA, said the Class B and C championship games would be played as a doubleheader Friday night, March 22, and the Class A final the next night.

In past years, the Class A final has been played in the State Farm show Arena in Harrisburg. The PIAA said it favors the Pittsburgh Arena because it has a large seating capacity.

The 1967 Class A championship game will be played at the arena in Harrisburg with the sites of the Class B and C games still undetermined. All three will be played March 18.

George Blanda of the Houston Oilers, Babe Parilli of the Boston Patriots and Joe Namath of the New York Jets played college ball under Alabama coach Paul (Bear) Bryant. Bryant had Blanda and Parilli at Kentucky.

Miami Coach In Line For Wisconsin Post

MADISON, Wis. (AP)— The University of Wisconsin Athletic Board held a closed-door meeting Tuesday night to make its recommendation on who the school should name as its next head football coach.

Among the nine candidates are Coach Bo Schembechler of Miami of Ohio and Notre Dame assistant coach John Ray, who formerly was head coach at John Carroll.

The board said no announcement on a selection will be made until the choice is ratified by the university's regents Friday.

When the Detroit Tigers finished third in 1966 it was their best American League position since 1961 when they were second to the New York Yankees.

PGA's Team Prize Will Begin Today

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP)—Defending champions Gay Brewer and Butch Baird take aim at the $275,000 PGA national team championships today, delighted that Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus are on the same rival team.

The tournament purse is the richest in golf history.

The Nicklaus-Palmer pairing in the best-ball tournament "just eliminates another good team," said Brewer, who is enjoying his best year as a pro with $76,000 in official winnings.

"I hope Palmer and Nicklaus play together every year," said Brewer, referring to the potential of either if paired with another pro.

Brewer said he and Baird "have our confidence" in being able to repeat their record 29-under-par 259 victory in the 1965 inaugural.

Brewer and Baird teed off at 8:57 a.m., EST, with the brother team of Jay and Lionel Hebert as companions again. The Heberts were runners-up last year, three strokes off the pace.

In addition to the Palmer-Nicklaus team, Sam Snead and Gardner Dickinson, third last year, are paired again.

Other repeaters:

Johnny Potts and Mason Rudolph, Don January and Paul Harney, brothers Jacky and Ruster Cupit, Al Besselink and Doug Sanders, Tomny Bolt and Tom Weiskopf.

The wind-up of the 72-hole match is to be televised nationally Saturday (Sports Network, Inc.).

Bret Hanover Named Harness Horse Of Year

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Retired Bret Hanover was named "Harness Horse of the Year" Tuesday a third straight time.

The big 4-year-old stallion owned by Richard Downing of Shaker Heights, Ohio, paced his last race last month. It was one of only six he failed to win in his 68-race career that netted a record $922,616.

Bret Hanover's pacing records include the fastest mile, a 1:53 3-5 in a time trial. He also paced the fastest mile in a race on a half-mile track, 1:55 at the 1965 Little Brown Jug.

The U. S. Harness Writers Association voters named Bret first on 163 of 198 ballots for the 1966 horse of the year honors. This year's top 3-year-old pacer, Romeo Hanover, received 28 first-place votes and finished second.

Owner Downing will receive the latest award to his horse, now retired to the Castleton Farm in Lexington, Ky., Sunday night at the harness writers' annual dinner in New York City.

Bret Hanover is the only horse to win the award three times.

PGA's Team Prize Will Begin Today

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP)—Defending champions Gay Brewer and Butch Baird take aim at the $275,000 PGA national team championships today, delighted that Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus are on the same rival team.

The tournament purse is the richest in golf history.

The Nicklaus-Palmer pairing in the best-ball tournament "just eliminates another good team," said Brewer, who is enjoying his best year as a pro with $76,000 in official winnings.

"I hope Palmer and Nicklaus play together every year," said Brewer, referring to the potential of either if paired with another pro.

Brewer said he and Baird "have our confidence" in being able to repeat their record 29-under-par 259 victory in the 1965 inaugural.

Brewer and Baird teed off at 8:57 a.m., EST, with the brother team of Jay and Lionel Hebert as companions again. The Heberts were runners-up last year, three strokes off the pace.

In addition to the Palmer-Nicklaus team, Sam Snead and Gardner Dickinson, third last year, are paired again.

Other repeaters:

Johnny Potts and Mason Rudolph, Don January and Paul Harney, brothers Jacky and Buster Cupit, Al Besselink and Doug Sanders, Tomny Bolt and Tom Weiskopf.

The wind-up of the 72-hole match is to be televised nationally Saturday (Sports Network, Inc.).

Bret Hanover Named Harness Horse Of Year

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Retired Bret Hanover was named "Harness Horse of the Year" Tuesday a third straight time.

The big 4-year-old stallion owned by Richard Downing of Shaker Heights, Ohio, paced his last race last month. It was one of only six he failed to win in his 68-race career that netted a record $922,616.

Bret Hanover's pacing records include the fastest mile, a 1:53 3-5 in a time trial. He also paced the fastest mile in a race on a half-mile track, 1:55 at the 1965 Little Brown Jug.

The U. S. Harness Writers Association voters named Bret first on 163 of 198 ballots for the 1966 horse of the year honors. This year's top 3-year-old pacer, Romeo Hanover, received 28 first-place votes and finished second.

Owner Downing will receive the latest award to his horse, now retired to the Castleton Farm in Lexington, Ky., Sunday night at the harness writers' annual dinner in New York City.

Bret Hanover is the only horse to win the award three times.

Wellsville High Junior Gets High Test Rating

A "remarkable" 135 has been achieved in Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Tests by Miss Mary Judith Kemeny, 14, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George O. Kemeny of 716 Main St., Wellsville.

High School Principal William Menough, who announced the test results Tuesday, said Judy scored a 65 in her verbal exam and 74 in math out of a possible 80. The tests were given Oct. 18.

Her verbal score, Menough said, places her in the 98th percentile of all high school juniors in the U.S. and her math grade in the 99th percentile.

Judy, a junior, obtained an "A" in a college-level analytic goemetry and calculus course at Western Reserve University, Cleveland, last summer.

A straight "A" student, she starred in the Junior Class play, "Junior Miss," presented last month at the high school. She hopes to be a mathematician or theoretical physicist and aspires to attend Radcliffe or Barnard.

Other Wellsville High juniors who scored exceptionally well, Menough said, are Randy Clark, Richard Cheatwood, Mary Hamilton, Sue Leyda, James McPeak, Joseph Scarabino, Patrick Mason, Connie Lanam, Mary Doyle and Sheryl Ference.

MARY JUDITH KEMENY
Score Is Outstanding.

Four seniors with combined scores of more than 100 were David Bush, Beth Todd, Debbie Bemis and Susan Bell.

Family Honors Stratton Couple On Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Treadway of Stratton observed their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday with a family gathering.

They were married Dec. 16, 1916, at Marietta by C. T. O'Neal, justice of the peace.

Mrs. Treadway was the former Dessie Shephard, daughter of the late Andrew and Gustonia Harris Shephard. She was born Nov. 28, 1895, in Washington County, Eddyridge, R. D., Marietta.

Mr. Treadway was born March 4, 1891, in the same place, the son of the late Joseph and Amanda Gert Treadway. In 1917 they moved to Stratton, where he was employed at the stone quarry until 1934, when he acquired his own trucking business, which he operated until 1956, when he became a custodian at the former Stratton School. He retired in 1961.

The Treadways have two daughters, Mrs. Irma Racz of Stratton and Mrs. Betty Reed of Chester, and two sons, Herman Treadway of Stratton and Dorhman Treadway of East Liverpool.

There are nine grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

People In News

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Ramon Yslas, who was near death from a football injury in October, has been appointed to the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md.

The 17-year-old Tucson student is still recuperating in a hospital but is listed in good condition. He had been unconscious for several days.

Yslas' appointment was announced Tuesday by Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz.

ELK CITY, Okla. (AP) — "If I'm dead," asked William Story, who is very much alive, "then I don't have to pay any bills, do I?"

Story was reacting to letters his wife received from the Veterans Administration and President Johnson expressing sympathy over his death. The VA also said it was cutting off his monthly Army disability pension.

Story was away on a hunting trip when the letters — still unexplained—arrived. His wife panicked, but calmed herself when she noted the correspondence was dated before her husband left home.

Story, who received an arm injury in World War II, is now trying to have his pension restored.

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — Walt Disney is in the hospital for a postoperative checkup following removal last month of part of his left lung.

Disney, who was 65 Monday, returned to work on a limited schedule before re-entering St. Joseph Hospital.

A spokesman for Disney said the checkup did not involve surgery.

Wellsville High Junior Gets High Test Rating

A "remarkable" 135 has been achieved in Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Tests by Miss Mary Judith Kemeny, 14, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George O. Kemeny of 716 Main St., Wellsville.

High School Principal William Menough, who announced the test results Tuesday, said Judy scored a 65 in her verbal exam and 74 in math out of a possible 80. The tests were given Oct. 18.

Her verbal score, Menough said, places her in the 98th percentile of all high school juniors in the U.S. and her math grade in the 99th percentile.

Judy, a junior, obtained an "A" in a college-level analytic goemetry and calculus course at Western Reserve University, Cleveland, last summer.

A straight "A" student, she starred in the Junior Class play, "Junior Miss," presented last month at the high school. She hopes to be a mathematician or theoretical physicist and aspires to attend Radcliffe or Barnard.

Other Wellsville High juniors who scored exceptionally well, Menough said, are Randy Clark, Richard Cheatwood, Mary Hamilton, Sue Leyda, James McPeak, Joseph Scarabino, Patrick Mason, Connie Lanam, Mary Doyle and Sheryl Ference.

MARY JUDITH KEMENY
Score Is Outstanding.

Four seniors with combined scores of more than 100 were David Bush, Beth Todd, Debbie Bemis and Susan Bell.

Mr. Treadway was born March 4, 1891, in the same place, the son of the late Joseph and Amanda Gert Treadway. In 1917 they moved to Stratton, where he was employed at the stone quarry until 1934, when he acquired his own trucking business, which he operated until 1956, when he became a custodian at the former Stratton School. People In News

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Ramon Yslas, who was near death from a football injury in October, has been appointed to the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md.

The 17-year-old Tucson student is still recuperating in a hospital but is listed in good condition. He had been unconscious for several days.

Yslas' appointment was announced Tuesday by Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz.

ELK CITY, Okla. (AP) — "If I'm dead," asked William Story, who is very much alive, "then I don't have to pay any bills, do I?"

Story was reacting to letters his wife received from the Veterans Administration and President Johnson expressing sympathy over his death. The VA also said it was cutting off his monthly Army disability pension.

Story was away on a hunting trip when the letters — still unexplained—arrived. His wife panicked, but calmed herself when she noted the correspondence was dated before her husband left home.

Story, who received an arm injury in World War II, is now trying to have his pension restored.

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — Walt Disney is in the hospital for a postoperative checkup following removal last month of part of his left lung.

Disney, who was 65 Monday, returned to work on a limited schedule before re-entering St. Joseph Hospital.

A spokesman for Disney said the checkup did not involve surgery.

Peace Feelers

Efforts Continue On 26 Major Ones

WASHINGTON (AP) — About the most perishable commodity in the diplomatic world today is a Viet Nam peace feeler.

The State Department says that since 1964 there have been 26 major ones initiated or supported by the United States. It says these efforts are continuing.

But no sooner is one launched in the corridors of the United Nations—or over a vodka martini at a diplomatic reception in Washington or Moscow—or reported in a whispered conversation in New Delhi, Belgrade or Algiers — than it is exploded with a massive denial.

"One has sometimes heard of peace feelers," Secretary of State Dean Rusk told a Canadian interviewer at the start of the 37-day pause in U.S. bombings in Viet Nam last Christmas.

"Actually these have arisen on the initiative of someone else. I don't know of any initiatives taken by Hanoi to seek peace," he said.

"Others — third parties, other governments, perhaps private citizens — have had conversations with Hanoi, and when some of these are made public these are translated into something called peace feelers by Hanoi.

"Hanoi has denied that they have made any peace feelers," Rusk said.

One year later the same situation still prevails, but if anything there are more peace probes and more denials than ever.

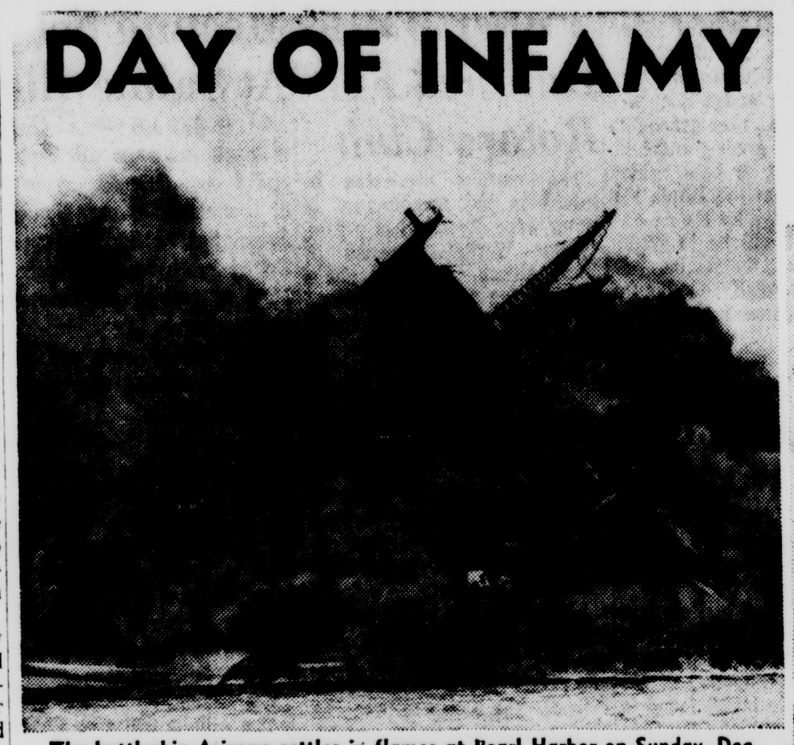
"Thus far all initiatives have failed due to the refusal by the Communist side to enter into discussions," according to Assistant Secretary of State Dixon Donnelly.

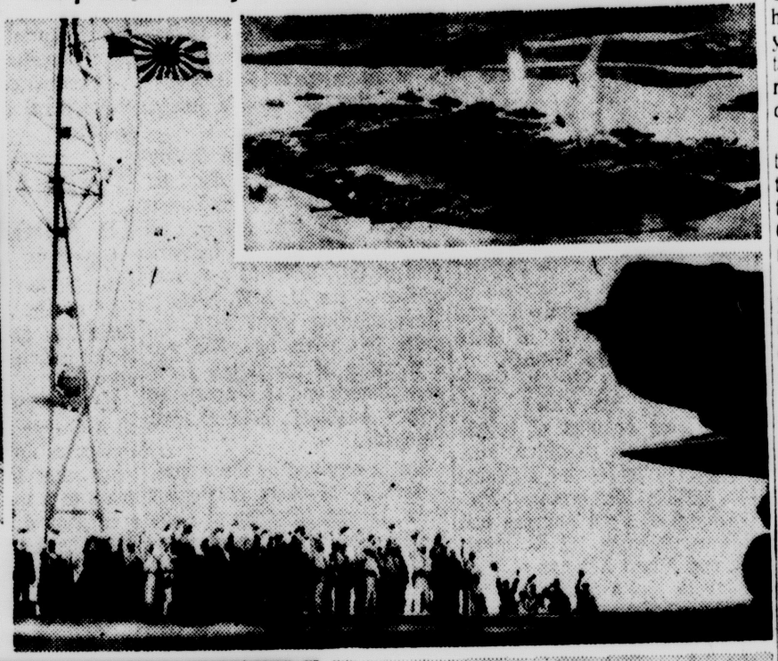
An opposite view is held by former presidential adviser and Harvard historian Arthur Schlesinger Jr. He said last summer "the diplomatic record is a good deal more complicated than our highest government officials have led us to believe — that the other side, far from rebuffing a series of 'unconditional' American overtures, has from time to time, despite the pressure to continue the war emanating from Peking, betrayed flickers of interest in a political settlement."

Schlesinger asserted that "a vigorous and imaginative American diplomacy would have exploited this, if only to establish our goodwill before the world."

DAY OF INFAMY

Times have changed. The enemy of a quarter-century ago is now a valued ally. A new generation has grown up for whom the shattering event is almost ancient history. Yet the day President Roosevelt declared would live in infamy still has meaning. No longer vengeance, it is the constant reminder that power carries with it responsibilities and perils, and that the price of liberty is indeed eternal vigilance.





The battleship Arizona settles in flames at Pearl Harbor on Sunday, Dec. 7, 1941. In a captured photograph, right, crewmen cheer the departure of attack planes from a carrier of the Imperial Japanese Navy. Inset shows a Japanese pilot's view of the attack on Ford Island, with American capital ships berthed along battleship row at top.

Map shows location at time of attack of the major ships sunk or damaged—the battleships Arizona, Oklahoma, California, Nevada, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Maryland and Tennessee; cruisers Helena, Honolulu and Raleigh, and destroyers Shaw, Cassin and Downes.

The attackers also suffered losses. The Japanese Zero, left, was one of many downed by antiaircraft fire or in dogfights. But it was a small price for the damage, right, inflicted on American Pacific power: 19 warships sunk or damaged; 247 planes destroyed or damaged; 3,303 American servicemen killed.

Chrysler Set For Layoffs During 1967

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. says it will lay off several hundred employes early next year, making it the second of the nation's Big Three auto makers to cut employment because of waning sales.

The first step of General Motors' two-stage production cut totaling 8.3 per cent took effect this week with several thousand GM employes laid off around the country.

Ford Motor Co. and American Motors said they had no immediate plans for layoffs, but added they were considering ways of cutting costs.

Earlier this week, GM and Chrysler announced production cutbacks that would put industrywide December auto production at least 70,000 units below the same period last year.

GM, which laid off 4,000 men Monday at assembly plants in Atlanta, Ga., St. Louis, Mo., Arlington, Tex., and suburban Willow Run, said more layoffs were planned by Jan. 9 at seven other plants. GM has 23 assembly plants in the United States.

Chrysler said it would lay off 680 workers Jan. 3. This would include 450 of 4,700 hourly and salaried employes at its Lynch Road plant in Detroit and 230 at its Los Angeles facility, which employs 2,100.

He Got It—Three Arrested

$1,000 Reward Offered To Get 'Peace Of Mind'

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Eugene Connelly offered $1,000 for "peace of mind." He got quick results.

A week ago Connelly, 42, began running an advertisement in local papers. It offered a $1,000 reward for help in capturing the persons who burglarized his suburban Pittsburgh home of $12,000 in jewelry and clothing while he and his wife were vacationing in Spain last October.

It wasn't the loss so much—the insurance would cover that.

"I've got to have some peace of mind as to who was in my home. Whether it was someone I know who set me up," he said.

Tuesday police arrested three persons Connelly had never seen before and charged them with burglary and receiving stolen goods. Most of the Connelly's belongings were recovered.

Arrested were Gilbert Gauglar 40, his son, James, 21, and Barbara Enscoe, 25, of the city's Northside.

Penn Hills police Lt. James DeMaria said police had received "certain information" after the advertisement appeared. Connelly said he had not decided who would get the $1,000.

Connelly, a well-to-do businessman, said it was curiosity which prompted him to run the advertisement. His wife, Betty, said she urged him to do it because she was scared.

"I am scared to death to stay here alone since the burglaries," she said.

"I have two dogs outside and another one inside and I'm still scared," she added.

"I hated to stay home. If Gene took a trip over a weekend, I'd go stay with my mother," she said.

"Did you ever know fear?" she asked. "I know it now."

"I'd hear all kinds of noises as soon as Gene left the house."

Of course the Connellys have some questions they would still like answered.

Like why their house was chosen for the burglary.

But meanwhile, Mrs. Connelly is resting easier.

"I feel a little more secure," she said. "In fact, I stayed home alone all day today."

"I think the advertisement and the reward were a very good investment," she said.

Heart Attack Fatal

HOLLIDAYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Oren Cowen, 71, of Roaring Spring R.D. suffered a fatal heart attack Tuesday while waiting in the state police barracks to undergo a routine eye examination as prescribed under Pennsylvania's motor code for auto operators.

$10,000 Sought In Surgery Case

An East Liverpool woman is seeking damages in excess of $10,000 from a Pittsburgh physician for what she claims was negligence in surgery performed more than 17 years ago.

The action was filed Tuesday in Federal Court at Pittsburgh by Miss Mary H. Lessel of 1817 Michigan Ave.

She accuses the physician of failing to remove a gauze pad from her lung during the surgery, claiming that the gauze was not detected until she underwent additional surgery for removal of part of her infected left lung on June 15, 1965.

The suit says that Miss Lessel often coughed up blood and had been plagued with lung infections as a result of the alleged negligence.

The Blind Spot

There is a point in the human eye familiarly known as "the blind spot," from which a person cannot see. It is where the optic nerves enter the retina, and where there are almost no sensitive cells. Under normal vision, this does not affect a person, but it may be made apparent when looking at certain objects in a certain way.

2-Way Crash Hurts Man On Dresden Ave.

A 37-year-old East Liverpool district driver was injured slightly in a crash late Tuesday afternoon on outer Dresden Ave. that caused heavy damage to two cars, police reported.

The collision involved a northbound 1962 model convertible driven by Robert W. Saxton of Ashland Pl. and a southbound 1961 four-door sedan operated by Wade Vance, 66, of 422 W. Drury Ln., officers reported.

Saxton suffered a small laceration of the forehead, but refused medical treatment, police said. Vance was cited by Patrolman David K. Mumaw on a charge of failure to yield the right-of-way while making a left turn.

The officer reported Vance attempted to make a left turn into a food market's parking lot in the 1800 block of Dresden Ave. and pulled directly into the path of Saxton's car. There was heavy damage to the left front of Saxton's car and the entire front of Vance's auto, officers said. The crash was timed at 5:18.

A 74-year-old Wellsville man steered his pickup truck over the sidewalk on W. 6th St. early Tuesday afternoon after the brakes failed, damaging the siding on a building occupied by the Village Green tavern, officers said.

Lester H. Rosenberger of 928 Main St. told Patrolman Charles A. Winters he was driving east on W. 6th St., approaching Dresden Ave., when a bus halted in front of him. Discovering that his brakes would not work, he steered the 1957 model truck across the sidewalk rather than hit the bus, he said.

A mishap at 6:46 p. m., Tuesday on the lot of the Ray Wilson Service Station on Pennsylvania Ave. caused minor damage to the right rear fender of a parked 1958 two-door sedan owned by Susan Dunn of 746 St. Clair Ave., officers said.

The vehicle was struck by a 1964 model four-door sedan driven by William H. Treleven of 412 Burrows Ave., officers said. Treleven told Patrolman Orin C. Smith his brakes were wet and would not function properly.

In order to qualify for the honor, Sharon first had to be selected "WAC of the Month." Then, in competition with all male units stationed at the base, she was chosen "Soldier of the Month," the first WAC selected for the honor in the 37-month history of the competition. Pfc. McNicol is a 1965 graduate of Oak Glen High School and enlisted last Feb. 15.

Man Nabbed For Slashing Oil Paintings In Capitol

WASHINGTON (AP) — A man wielding a pair of open scissors has slashed four oil paintings in the House wing of the Capitol.

Capitol police arrested a man Tuesday they identified as George Palakian, 27, of Paterson, N.J., and charged him with destroying government property. Chief J. M. Powell of the Capitol police force said Palakian admitted slashing the paintings.

The largest and most valuable of the damaged works was a 20-by-30-foot painting depicting the signing of the Constitution. Done by Howard Chandler Christy in 1940 at a cost of $30,000, it hangs halfway up the double stairway from the House floor to the gallery level. The other three paintings were individual portraits of distinguished Americans.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower will undergo a series of tests that may take three or four days after he enters Walter Reed Army Hospital Thursday for removal of his gallbladder, doctors say.

Although doctors offered no information on the nature of the tests, one common test involves giving the patient tablets containing a dye. The dye is carried through the bloodstream into the liver and then into the gallbladder, making it visible for X-ray studies.

If gall stones are present, their shadow may show up in the X-rays. This test requires overnight absorption of the tablets—and may have to be repeated requiring another overnight wait.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Selective Service headquarters says draft-eligible men seeking deferments as college students may take qualification tests at 500 locations across the country next March 11, March 31 or April 8.

The tests are similar to those given last month to more than 110,000 men. They are prepared and graded by the Educational Testing Service of Princeton, N.J., and the grades reported to local draft boards.

Bodies Of Two Young Women Sought In River

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Authorities searched the Ottawa River today for the bodies of two young Lima women who were washed away after a car they were riding in was swept downstream.

Police held little hopes of finding Janice Roush, 26, and Tonja Hardin, 18, alive.

Police said a car driven by Donald Dye, 18, also of Lima, went around a barricade and tried to cross the river at a normally shallow spot Tuesday night. The swift current brought on by recent rains swept the car away.

Motorists in Lima often ford the river when the water is lower. The spot is at the site of a quarry.

Dye told police the three jumped from the car and that he clung to a tree. The women were holding onto Dye but were swept away, he said.

2-Way Crash Hurts Man On Dresden Ave.

A 37-year-old East Liverpool district driver was injured slightly in a crash late Tuesday afternoon on outer Dresden Ave. that caused heavy damage to two cars, police reported.

The collision involved a northbound 1962 model convertible driven by Robert W. Saxton of Ashland Pl. and a southbound 1961 four-door sedan operated by Wade Vance, 66, of 422 W. Drury Ln., officers reported.

Saxton suffered a small laceration of the forehead, but refused medical treatment, police said. Vance was cited by Patrolman David K. Mumaw on a charge of failure to yield the right-of-way while making a left turn.

The officer reported Vance attempted to make a left turn into a food market's parking lot in the 1800 block of Dresden Ave. and pulled directly into the path of Saxton's car. There was heavy damage to the left front of Saxton's car and the entire front of Vance's auto, officers said. The crash was timed at 5:18.

A 74-year-old Wellsville man steered his pickup truck over the sidewalk on W. 6th St. early Tuesday afternoon after the brakes failed, damaging the siding on a building occupied by the Village Green tavern, officers said.

Lester H. Rosenberger of 928 Main St. told Patrolman Charles A. Winters he was driving east on W. 6th St., approaching Dresden Ave., when a bus halted in front of him. Discovering that his brakes would not work, he steered the 1957 model truck across the sidewalk rather than hit the bus, he said.

A mishap at 6:46 p. m., Tuesday on the lot of the Ray Wilson Service Station on Pennsylvania Ave. caused minor damage to the right rear fender of a parked 1958 two-door sedan owned by Susan Dunn of 746 St. Clair Ave., officers said.

The vehicle was struck by a 1964 model four-door sedan driven by William H. Treleven of 412 Burrows Ave., officers said. Treleven told Patrolman Orin C. Smith his brakes were wet and would not function properly.

McNicol of 129 Washington St., Newell, is shown receiving the citation from Col. Brennan, commander at Ft. MacArthur. In order to qualify for the honor, Sharon first had to be selected "WAC of the Month." Then, in competition with all male units stationed at the base, she was chosen "Soldier of the Month," the first WAC selected for the honor in the 37-month history of the competition. Pfc. Dear Folks: Many of the new garments go through the permanent crease process after the article has been completed.

Therefore, it is important to buy permanent crease garments to fit. Because when altered, the original seams and creases will continue to show after laundering.

When purchasing permanent crease articles, inspect them carefully. We have been notified by authorities that: "If you see any out of place wrinkles, creases, or puckers present in the article, select another garment. If the wrinkles, creases, or purckers are there when you buy them . . . they won't come out after wearing or laundering!"

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I'm always glad to have leftover eggnog after the holidays.

I put it in instant vanilla pudding instead of milk.

Hot cereals such as cream of wheat and oatmeal are like a delicious pudding when eggnog is used in place of milk.

My children are already wanting me to buy some eggnog for these uses.

MRS. GARY WEKS.

DEAR HELOISE: My New Year's resolution will be to remember to ask for a receipt for prescriptions for members of my family.

To keep these safe and in order, I plan to purchase a recipe box, and file all receipts behind each family member's name. These will be for medicine, eyeglasses, doctor bills, etc.— which have to be kept for insurance and-or income tax purposes.

Behind these receipts, I plan to set up files for department store receipts and anything that shows interest or sales taxes paid on it.

Bet I'll be better organized when income tax time and insurance claim time rolls around from now on.

Wish I'd thought of it before.

MAE GARDNER.

DEAR HELOISE: For bird lovers and bird watchers who like to feed birds:

Take an empty bleach jug and cut the top funnel part off diagonally. Remove the cap and nail it upside down on a cut off broom handle or stick and screw the cut off part back into the cap.

Push the stick into the ground and fill the inverted funnel with your favorite bird seed or feed.

ALEXANDER BAILEY.

DEAR HELOISE: When brushing my hair it's much less tiring if I lie on the bed and hang my head over the edge.

I'm told this also improves and makes my hair more beautiful.

MARY BETH SCHENCK.

DEAR HELOISE: An old wool blanket makes an excellent pad for an ironing board. It will never wrinkle and lasts for years.

WANDA NORTHRUP.

DEAR HELOISE: Here is what I do to keep bananas from turning dark when making a gelatine dessert with fruit:

I mix the gelatin with one cup of hot water, add one cup of cold water, then take out about one-half cup of the mixture and set aside. I add the fruit, set in the refrigerator until firm, then pour the half cup of thin gelatin over the top and return to the refrigerator. The bananas will be completely covered and will not turn dark.

RUTH.

DEAR HELOISE: I recently helped mail out almost 3,000 invitations and discovered that ironing is an excellent and fast method for sealing envelopes.

Use a wet sponge to wipe over the gummed envelope flap, fold down and press once with your iron set on medium heat.

One envelope at a time works better than lining up the envelopes for mass production.

It's really fast and seals the envelopes well, plus they don't stick together as when lined up.

This is my answer for Christmas cards, wedding anniversaries or large party invitations.

MRS. GEORGE COILEY.

DEAR HELOISE: I couldn't get house slippers to stay on my 3-year-old, so I bought several pairs of heavy crew socks for him.

He can put them on without any help and they don't fall off.

Also, they keep his feet warm on cold floors.

MRS. R. L. C.

DEAR HELOISE: Did you ever try wrapping a gift with aluminum foil and then covering the foil with nylon net?

A swag of net for the ribbon or bow tops it off real neat.

Two thicknesses of colored net looks best.

MRS. SARAH WATSON.

2 Brothers-In-Law Held In Bank Holdup

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — The FBI arrested two brothers-in-law at their home in nearby Niles Tuesday in the theft of $6,600 from a Sharon, Pa., bank Monday.

Alfonso J. Conde, 22, and Coleman S. Takacs Jr., 26, were charged with armed bank robbery before a U. S. commissioner and held in the Mahoning County Jail.

Dealer Sticks To Claim Of 1-Cent Profit On Milk

HARRISBURG (AP) — A cut-rate milk dealer has stuck to a claim that his firm can make money selling milk at a 1 - cent-a- quart profit through five hours of cross-examination in Commonwealth Court.

Attorneys for the state Milk Control Commission and Pennsylvania milk dealers tried unsuccessfully to discredit the testimony of the cut-rate dealer, Demetrios Haseotes, during a day-long interrogation session Tuesday.

Throughout the questioning, Haseotes contended that his firm had never sold milk below cost, and that he could profitably market milk in Pennsylvania for 79 cents a gallon.

Haseotes is general manager of a chain of 400 retail dairy stores, including Lily - Penn Food Stores, Inc., of Philadelphia, one of two retail dairy stores chains challenging the constitutionality of Pennsylvania's Milk Control Law.

Lily - Penn is a subsidiary of Cumberland Farms, Inc., of Riverton, N.J. — one of 14 such corporations owned and operated by the Haseotes family in the New England states, New Jersey, Delaware and Pennsylvania.

Commission attorneys showered Haseotes with questions about his firm's dealings with milk producers, processing operations and wage policies when he returned to the stand for cross - examination Tuesday.

Haseotes had testified about his firm's profit margin on Monday after he was called as a witness by Harold Kohn, attorney for Lily-Penn.

Under cross - examination, Haseotes testified that Cumberland Farms operates on a small profit margin and depends on volume sales.

Although prices fluctuate within various market areas, he said, the firm's basic mark-up is 6 cents a quart, one cent of which is profit.

At the outset, Judge William W. Lipsitt had warned Milk Commission attorneys that they would not be permitted to question Haseotes about specific cost or price data — the same ban he had imposed on Kohn last week when he had questioned supermarket and dairy officials.

At the end of Tuesday's session, Willis Daniels, an attorney for a group of Harrisburg area dealers, asked that Haseotes' entire testimony be stricken on the grounds that it was vague, irrelevent and unsubstantiated.

Judge Lipsitt rejected the plea without comment.

Lily - Penn and the second firm, Louden Hill Farms, Inc., of Scranton, forced a court test of the 30-year-old milk Control Law last month by selling milk for 79 cents a gallon — 27 cents below the commission - set minimum in the Philadelphia area.

The commission is asking Commonwealth Court to make permanent a temporary order it had issued earlier prohibiting the two firms from selling cut-rate milk.

Lily - Penn and Louden Hill are asking the court to reverse its earlier ruling on the ground that the milk regulatory law is unconstitutional.

The commission is scheduled to begin rebuttal arguments after Lily - Penn concludes its case.

The Louden Hill suit, basically the same as Lily - Penn's, is to be heard at the conclusion of the commission rebuttal.

Boston Man Killed In Gangland Slaying

REVERE, Mass. (AP) — A volley of shots apparently fired from two passing cars today killed Joseph D'Amico, 27, of Boston, in what police said was the 36th gangland killing in Greater Boston in 2½ years.

Police said D'Amico was a passenger in a car driven by James Kerns, 28, of Boston. Kerns was charged with being an accessory after the fact of murder.

Kerns was found wandering around the car after it crashed. He was taken to Massachusetts General Hospital where he was charged and treated for a wound of the right cheek.

Doctors said they did not know if Kern's injury occurred in the crash or whether it was a bullet wound.

UAW's Local At Evendale OKs GE Pact

CINCINNATI (AP)—The 4,600 members of United Auto Workers Local 647 ended their stalemate with General Electric Co.'s big jet engine plant in Evendale by ratifying a new contract Tuesday.

The UAW and Lodge 912, International Association of Machinists, struck the plant two days in October, but were ordered back to work Oct. 18 under a Taft-Hartley law injunction. The injunction was granted at the request of President Johnson after he said the work here was vital for defense.

The machinists, with 1,700 members, are to vote on the new contract next Sunday.

The contract, endorsed by both local and national union leaders, was thrashed out Sunday in Washington with the assistance of federal mediators.

It is retroactive to Oct. 17, and will give the employes a 4 per cent raise this year, 2.6 per cent in 1967 and 3 per cent in 1968. Other benefits include cost of living raises and two additional paid holidays, bringing the total of nine.

The old pay scale for most of the employes ranged from $2.47 to $3.90 an hour.

Droplets Of Oil Point To Battleship's Grave

Dec. 7, '41, Day Of Horror, Lingers

By MALCOLM BARR

PEARL HARBOR, Hawaii (AP) — More than a generation has passed, but tiny droplets of oil still filter to the surface of the water, bursting into a kaleidoscope of color above the sunken battleship Arizona.

Twenty-five years later, the memory of Dec. 7, 1941, lingers, a recollection of horror, of disbelief.

The men who died that day, 2,409 of them, now are names on the walls of a gleaming white memorial.

The memorial, inside Pearl Harbor, straddles the sunken battleship from which the oil still seeps and aboard which remain the bodies of 1,102 officers and men of the U.S. Navy.

Gene Lindsey of Jefferson City, Mo., president of the Pearl Harbor Survivors Association, has led an unprecedented number of survivors to Hawaii for the 25th anniversary of the Japanese attack. Lindsey was a signalman aboard the destroyer Chew, moored about 500 yards from famed Battleship Row when the first bombs fell.

"Everything happened all of a sudden," he recalled. "When the Arizona was hit, she just exploded."

A bomb set off the battlewagon's forward ammunition magazine. A "one-in-a-million" bomb went down her stack. She was hit by torpedoes. More bombs dropped on her decks and flames shot hundreds of feet into the air.

Throughout that day, Pearl Harbor's waters — now so tranquil, so serene — were aflame with burning oil, with men struggling toward the shores of Ford Island.

In the 110 minutes the Japanese attack lasted, the U.S. Navy lost more men than it lost in the Spanish-American War, World War I, and Korea, combined.

It plunged the United States into World War II.

It was a lesson of unpreparedness, and something that military men say will not happen again. Today, few ships are seen in the harbor. They come they go. But there is never the assembly of warships like the fleet that was riding at anchor 25 years ago.

On that day, 18 vessels were sunk or seriously damaged. Nine of the 18 were the battleships Arizona, California, Maryland, Nevada, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Utah, Tennessee and West Virginia. The Utah like the Arizona, went down with part of her crew trapped aboard. She remains a tomb for 58 men.

Most of the people who were there, or who lived in nearby Honolulu, say today it took them some time to realize that that Sunday morning attack was real.

Martin Vitousek, an associate geophysicist at the University of Hawaii, was with his father in a light plane when the Japanese bombers and torpedo planes dipped down over the Waianae mountain range and sped across the harbor.

Vitousek recalls shouting to his father, "Look! P40s." He was identifying the planes as U.S. fighters.

And Roy L. Vitousek replied, "P40s hell! They're Japanese."

Somehow, the two men got their tiny Aeronca down at Honolulu Airport, which also was used by the Army Air Corps at Hickam Field. They dodged bullets as the Japanese began strafing, and made it to cover inside a hangar.

"The people there hadn't realized even then that it was the Japanese," Vitousek said.

Though one of the airport employes was dead, the others thought he'd been killed by an American plane whose pilot had forgotten to empty its guns.

At Hickam, Pvt. Frank Frucci of Niles, Mich., was waiting for his buddy, Bernard Cullinane of Kalamazoo. He looked at his watch.

"Bernie, it's five before eight. If we're going to make it to Mass, we'd better hurry," said Frucci, peering through a barracks window to see what all the noise was about.

At the same time, Pfc. Gabriel Christie of Brooklyn, N.Y., slapped a baseball into a glove, and hung around outside the same barracks waiting for friends. Hearing an explosion, he thought: "Heck, the Navy's working at war games on a Sunday."

In a few seconds, Hickam Field was also to feel the fury of the Japanese attackers. More than 200 Army Air Corps men, some of them buddies of Frucci and Christie, were killed and more than 350 were injured as the attack immobilized the grounded U.S. planes. Hickam is adjacent to Pearl Harbor and was a prime target that day.

Frucci survived the attack and is chairman of the survivors' association Michigan chapter. As such, he is back in Hawaii for the first time in 23 years.

Christie, a master sergeant awaiting retirement, is working in the same barracks building 25 years later. It is now headquarters of the Pacific Air Forces. Cullinane died at his home last March.

Frucci is one of almost 3,000 Pearl Harbor survivors and relatives of the dead who are in Hawaii for memorial services, scheduled to begin at precisely 7:55 a.m. today at the National Memorial Cemetery of the Pacific, and at sunset at the Arizona Memorial.

"All we want to do," said Lindsey of his fellow association members, "is remember Pearl Harbor...and our men who were killed. This is not just a trip to Hawaii for these men. There will be a lot of tears shed Wednesday (and) yours truly is not excluded."

Fame Of Forefathers Has Capt. Stilwell 'On Spot'

(AP) — His grandfather was "Vinegar Joe," his father was a famous general, too, and for Capt. Joe Stilwell III it's like being "in a goldfish bowl."

Fame of his forefathers has put the 27-year-old officer on the spot. He's the third Stilwell to go to war in Southeast Asia.

"Pressure?" he said "Yeah. "Do something right and everybody says, 'Of course, look at his family.' But do something wrong and listen to them howl: 'Hey, lookit what Stilwell did now!'"

He is the air operations officer with the 1st Battalion, 18th Infantry, 1st Infantry Division. It's a job with responsibility, but Stilwell wants command of a rifle company.

"I'm hoping to get a company in the next couple of months," he said during an operation in the jungles near the Cambodian border.

His helmet was cocked to one side as a bulbous earphone pressed against one ear. His eyeglasses slipped down his nose.

The battalion was establishing an encampment in a clearing deep in War Zone C, about 80 miles northwest of Saigon. Helicopters swirled in with ammunition, equipment and supplies.

Stilwell, with a slight beard on his jutting chin, barked into a field phone. There might have been a resemblance there to "Vinegar Joe," the caustic Gen. Stilwell of World War II who won fame in Burma against the Japanese and with airlifts into China.

The 1st Infantry troops were in pursuit of a Viet Cong force that made War Zone C its home, headquarters and longtime sanctuary.

Jets frequently swooped across the tree tops unleashing napalm and bombs. GIs were moving through the jungles and the air strikes had to be closely controlled. Stilwell spent hours on the phones, coordinating with air observers, brigade headquarters and troops in the field.

During quiet moments, Stilwell with earphones still clamped over his head, sat on a sandbag and worked on a crossword puzzle.

"It's interesting here," he said, "But I'd rather be on the line somewhere. That's the place to be."

He arrived in Viet Nam last summer but was soon called back to the United States when his father, Brig. Gen. Joseph Stilwell II, was lost in a DC3 that crashed in the Pacific between San Francisco and Honolulu. The father was commander of the Special Forces Training Center at Ft. Bragg, N.C., at the time.

Joe III spent two months at home with his mother and sister, then returned to Viet Nam in late September to pick up his assignment.

Droplets Of Oil Point To Battleship's Grave

Dec. 7, '41, Day Of Horror, Lingers

By MALCOLM BARR

PEARL HARBOR, Hawaii (AP) — More than a generation has passed, but tiny droplets of oil still filter to the surface of the water, bursting into a kaleidoscope of color above the sunken battleship Arizona.

Twenty-five years later, the memory of Dec. 7, 1941, lingers, a recollection of horror, of disbelief.

The men who died that day, 2,409 of them, now are names on the walls of a gleaming white memorial.

The memorial, inside Pearl Harbor, straddles the sunken battleship from which the oil still seeps and aboard which remain the bodies of 1,102 officers and men of the U.S. Navy.

Gene Lindsey of Jefferson City, Mo., president of the Pearl Harbor Survivors Association, has led an unprecedented number of survivors to Hawaii for the 25th anniversary of the Japanese attack. Lindsey was a signalman aboard the destroyer Chew, moored about 500 yards from famed Battleship Row when the first bombs fell.

"Everything happened all of a sudden," he recalled. "When the Arizona was hit, she just exploded."

A bomb set off the battlewagon's forward ammunition magazine. A "one-in-a-million" bomb went down her stack. She was hit by torpedoes. More bombs dropped on her decks and flames shot hundreds of feet into the air.

Throughout that day, Pearl Harbor's waters — now so tranquil, so serene — were aflame with burning oil, with men struggling toward the shores of Ford Island.

In the 110 minutes the Japanese attack lasted, the U.S. Navy lost more men than it lost in the Spanish-American War, World War I, and Korea, combined.

It plunged the United States into World War II.

It was a lesson of unpreparedness, and something that military men say will not happen again. Today, few ships are seen in the harbor. They come they go. But there is never the assembly of warships like the fleet that was riding at anchor 25 years ago.

On that day, 18 vessels were sunk or seriously damaged. Nine of the 18 were the battleships Arizona, California, Maryland, Nevada, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Utah, Tennessee and West Virginia. The Utah like the Arizona, went down with part of her crew trapped aboard. She remains a tomb for 58 men.

Most of the people who were there, or who lived in nearby Honolulu, say today it took them some time to realize that that Sunday morning attack was real.

Martin Vitousek, an associate geophysicist at the University of Hawaii, was with his father in a light plane when the Japanese bombers and torpedo planes dipped down over the Waianae mountain range and sped across the harbor.

Vitousek recalls shouting to his father, "Look! P40s." He was identifying the planes as U.S. fighters.

And Roy L. Vitousek replied, "P40s hell! They're Japanese."

Somehow, the two men got their tiny Aeronca down at Honolulu Airport, which also was used by the Army Air Corps at Hickam Field. They dodged bullets as the Japanese began strafing, and made it to cover inside a hangar.

"The people there hadn't realized even then that it was the Japanese," Vitousek said.

Though one of the airport employes was dead, the others thought he'd been killed by an American plane whose pilot had forgotten to empty its guns.

At Hickam, Pvt. Frank Frucci of Niles, Mich., was waiting for his buddy, Bernard Cullinane of Kalamazoo. He looked at his watch.

"Bernie, it's five before eight. If we're going to make it to Mass, we'd better hurry," said Frucci, peering through a barracks window to see what all the noise was about.

At the same time, Pfc. Gabriel Christie of Brooklyn, N.Y., slapped a baseball into a glove, and hung around outside the same barracks waiting for friends. Hearing an explosion, he thought: "Heck, the Navy's working at war games on a Sunday."

In a few seconds, Hickam Field was also to feel the fury of the Japanese attackers. More than 200 Army Air Corps men, some of them buddies of Frucci and Christie, were killed and more than 350 were injured as the attack immobilized the grounded U.S. planes. Hickam is adjacent to Pearl Harbor and was a prime target that day.

Frucci survived the attack and is chairman of the survivors' association Michigan chapter. As such, he is back in Hawaii for the first time in 23 years.

Christie, a master sergeant awaiting retirement, is working in the same barracks building 25 years later. It is now headquarters of the Pacific Air Forces. Cullinane died at his home last March.

Frucci is one of almost 3,000 Pearl Harbor survivors and relatives of the dead who are in Hawaii for memorial services, scheduled to begin at precisely 7:55 a.m. today at the National Memorial Cemetery of the Pacific, and at sunset at the Arizona Memorial.

"All we want to do," said Lindsey of his fellow association members, "is remember Pearl Harbor...and our men who were killed. This is not just a trip to Hawaii for these men. There will be a lot of tears shed Wednesday (and) yours truly is not excluded."

Fame Of Forefathers Has Capt. Stilwell 'On Spot'

(AP) — His grandfather was "Vinegar Joe," his father was a famous general, too, and for Capt. Joe Stilwell III it's like being "in a goldfish bowl."

Fame of his forefathers has put the 27-year-old officer on the spot. He's the third Stilwell to go to war in Southeast Asia.

"Pressure?" he said. "Yeah. "Do something right and everybody says, 'Of course, look at his family.' But do something wrong and listen to them howl: 'Hey, lookit what Stilwell did now!'"

He is the air operations officer with the 1st Battalion, 18th Infantry, 1st Infantry Division. It's a job with responsibility, but Stilwell wants command of a rifle company.

"I'm hoping to get a company in the next couple of months," he said during an operation in the jungles near the Cambodian border.

His helmet was cocked to one side as a bulbous earphone pressed against one ear. His eyeglasses slipped down his nose.

The battalion was establishing an encampment in a clearing deep in War Zone C, about 80 miles northwest of Saigon. Helicopters swirled in with ammunition, equipment and supplies.

Stilwell, with a slight beard on his jutting chin, barked into a field phone. There might have been a resemblance there to "Vinegar Joe," the caustic Gen. Stilwell of World War II who won fame in Burma against the Japanese and with airlifts into China.

The 1st Infantry troops were in pursuit of a Viet Cong force that made War Zone C its home, headquarters and longtime sanctuary.

Jets frequently swooped across the tree tops unleashing napalm and bombs. GIs were moving through the jungles and the air strikes had to be closely controlled. Stilwell spent hours on the phones, coordinating with air observers, brigade headquarters and troops in the field.

During quiet moments, Stilwell with earphones still clamped over his head, sat on a sandbag and worked on a crossword puzzle.

"It's interesting here," he said, "But I'd rather be on the line somewhere. That's the place to be."

He arrived in Viet Nam last summer but was soon called back to the United States when his father, Brig. Gen. Joseph Stilwell II, was lost in a DC3 that crashed in the Pacific between San Francisco and Honolulu. The father was commander of the Special Forces Training Center at Ft. Bragg, N.C., at the time.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Exit Crying

Hal Humphrey

No industry is more vulnerable to satire yet has less of a sense of humor about itself than television. It doesn't want to be reminded—even in jest—that it allows a virtual outsider to "bug" 1,100 volunteer families (with Audimeters) who dictate what programs should be on the air.

Neither do the TV industry's big domes like to be reminded that one man (Charley Douglas) with a home-made laugh machine determines where the laughs should come on most of TV's so-called comedy shows.

GROWN MEN in TV program departments have been known to break into tears when a name competitive to the sponsor's inadvertently gets by the script censor. One of the all-time classics was the day in TV when the Pilgrims landed on Plymouth Rock again, but the show was sponsored by General Motors.

Where else but in TV is a dramatist told to eliminate a "hell" or a "damn" from a script which later is interrupted by a commercial waving against "irregularity" or prescribing a painless remedy for hemorrhoids?

In an effort to relieve some of these ridiculous tensions and prove the world wasn't really coming to an end, Milton Berle thought he'd poke some fun at himself and the industry next month when his own show is pink-slipped from ABC. He was going to call his final show (Jan. 13) "Exit Laughing," and corral as many other canceled-this-season stars as he could to help him.

ABC'S BRASS nixed Berle's idea on the spurious grounds that "it would embarrass the guest talent." It wouldn't occur to a TV vice president with tunnel vision that the "guest talent" in this case wouldn't sign on if they felt embarrassed.

Obviously it was ABC who feared the embarrassment. It premiered more new shows this season than CBS and NBC and canceled more before the season was half under way.

Since no one at ABC, except Berle, wanted to exit laughing, the comic came up with another idea for his final show, one which the network also turned down.

"We were going to set up a banquet table like we have at the Friars Club and George Jessel was to be toastmaster. I was going to get the award for 'Man of the Half Year.' Don Rickles, George Burns, Red Buttons and others would have delivered speeches after Jessel rapped the gavel and started the eulogy with a 'Dearly beloved, we are gathered here, and you know the rest. I think it could have been pretty funny."

BERLE RECALLS that TV didn't used to be so sensitive and lacking in a sense of humor. A decade ago there were TV plays based on the foibles of TV and its Madison Ave. mentors.

TV Guide once devoted its entire awards show to satirical sketches needing network shows and personalities. Berle himself once did a devastating monologue on TV when he appeared as New York host for an Emmy Awards special.

The networks are losing their sense of humor, no doubt about it," he says, "and it's hurting them. Everything is too pat now, and the public is getting bored. The networks forget the public is hip and that they made them that way. But now they steer away from anything different, and we don't get a chance to be adult for that hip audience."

LOOKING at this season's TV record, one would have to agree that someone is getting bored. Nearly one-third of the 33 new network series were canceled within weeks after the season was launched amid a multimillion-dollar network promotion campaign hailing it as the "best ever."

Even by the industry's kooky Nielsen measuring system, only three of those new series were in the most recent Nielsen "Top 40."

Still, there is no sign from any of the networks that they would welcome something adult in TV fare, so the Hollywood film producers keep restirring the old formulae, and the attrition goes merrily along its way to the tune of the same old laugh tracks.

Period Called 'The Holidays'

By AILEEN SNODDY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK (NEA) — If more people would give a thought to what's between their shoulders and feet during the next few weeks, they might lose some weight.

The period, laughingly called "the holidays" is an endurance contest laced with food and drink. But, says a businesswoman who once belonged to the rank of the excessively overweight, "Holidays, birthdays and vacations really aren't fattening if a person keeps in mind a desire to be slimmer."

This desire led Jean Nidetch of Little Neck, N.Y., to drop 72 pounds five years ago. She now throws her 142-pound weight into the problem of obesity and overeating through her organization called Weight Watchers Incorporated in 1963, the club now is in 16 states, with international members, too.

MRS. NIDETCH finds that worry about excess pounds is financially fruitful in the United States.

Those who want to watch their weight under her aegis pay a $5 registration fee and $2 a week to attend all the classes they can stuff into their schedules. However, unlike many who turn food faddism into money without truly helping those in need, Mrs. Nidetch's followers rely upon a sound menu of high protein, fruits and all the low-calorie vegetables you can eat.

The basic theory is to lose weight and maintain the loss, which doctors say is the only healthful way. Set up originally with a buddy system similar to Alcoholics Anonymous — a quick phone call for help when the urge for chocolate mousse pops up — Weight Watchers now rely upon weight - losing testimonials in class and lowered intake diet.

Mrs. Nidetch, who has no medical background, points out that most people are overweight because they overeat. "Some," she reveals, "denied eating anything during the day. They were nibbling cookies and cakes when no one was looking."

Such "closet eating" plus a groaning board at family meals encourages "fat families."

And fat families mean good business for such groups as those who produce the low-calorie food products. The California Canners and Growers, with more than 57 low - calorie items, estimates the 1966 market was $300 million and will continue to grow.

HOWEVER, the American Medical Association and government nutrition experts point out that low - calorie foods often are a more expensive way to shed weight than just cutting back on what you eat in three well - balanced meals a day.

Their greatest concern, though, is with individuals and companies promoting and selling health or miracle foods. Last year it was estimated 10 million Americans contributed to swindlers and crackpots who claim that most diseases are caused by faulty diet, that American soils are impoverished and the food produced is not nutritional, that we all need more vitamins and minerals because these are gleaned from our overprocessed food. All these "myths" have been proved scientifically untrue and many food-faddist leaders have been prosecuted and fined.

Neil Kelly of the Sugar Association, a trade organization whose members worry that Americans will cut back on sugar intake to lose weight, generally backs Mrs. Nidetch's view that "overweight comes from eating more food than the body uses up."

From the association's extensive files on dieting and food fallacies he reports that 10 million Americans waste over $500 million a year on quack diets, fake pills, falsely represented vitamin products and so-called health foods. In discussing diets, Kelly puts them in three categories:

Fad diets which limit the intake of one type of food—The Drinking Man's Diet, Calories Don't Count, A New Diet for Fat Pilots.

Fad diets which permit only the intake of certain foods—The Eggs-Prunes - Steak crash diet, The Champagne Diet, The Spaghetti Diet.

Fad diets which depend on some gimmick to make taking in less calories more attractive —The Six - Meals - a - Day Diet, The Weight Watcher's Diet, The Nibbling Diet. (This latter group of diets is considered the most effective for healthful maintenance of weight loss.)

Tried any of these lately? Remember the holidays are here. Push away from that table heaped with food after eating lightly and you won't have to be a faddist. As Mrs. Nidetch says, "Your stomach doesn't know it's Thanksgiving or Christmas."

Keep In Trim

For Getting Back In Shape

Ida Jean Kain

When a new mother requests an exercise program that will help her restore tone from tip to toe, literally, where should she begin?

Begin with those important middle muscles.

After the baby arrives the abdomen will feel marvelously flat at first.

But two months later many a young mother is surprised and perplexed to find she has an amplified abdomen. The overly stretched muscles, particularly the long front muscles, when not retoned, get flabby, take on fat and spread. The oblique muscles which curve around the sides and front of the abdomen also need toning, or the waist tends to thicken.

BEGINNING exercises can be taken toward the end of the first week. Follow your own doctor's instructions. In normal cases, the following exercise program can be taken the third and fourth week after the baby arrives.

Position: Lying on back, on bed or mat, knees flexed, soles of feet flat.

Movement: Pull up - and - inforcibly with the abdominal muscles until the small of back touches the bed or mat. Hold this contraction to a slow count of five, and slowly release. Repeat five times. Do not hold your breath.

Position: Same as above.

Movement: Raise hips to a straight line as you stretch arms back on floor beyond head. In this raised position contract strongly with the abdominal muscles, pulling up and in forcibly. Hold this contraction to a slow count of five. Return hips to mat, raise again and repeat 3 to 5 times. (Do not arch your back.)

Position: Lie on back with knees flexed. Pull up and in snugly, then hug knees to chest with encircling arms.

Movement: From this rest position, rock forward to a sitting posture. Roll back, and again rock forward, five times in all.

Position: Lying face down, on bed or mat, with pillow protecting breasts.

Movement: Lift alternate legs about 12 inches up, hold for a slow count of five, and lower slowly. Repeat five times with each leg. Do not bend knees, do not roll.

THIS EXERCISE routine can be taken twice daily, if your doctor approves.

The most rewarding time in a woman's life to take specific conditioners is after the baby arrives. If you failed to exercise then, start now. You'll feel stronger and measure slimmer in a few short weeks, provided you exercise regularly.

Joker Puts Batman On Write-In Ballot

GAINESVILLE, Ga. (AP) — Batman, television's caped crusader, holds the balance of power in a City Commission race, all because some joker put his name on a write-in ballot.

Amazed officials counted the votes in an election Tuesday for a city commissioner three times and each time got the same result.

Candidates Howard James and Joseph Stargel each received 674 votes and there was one write-in vote for Batman. The votes were made official.

City Atty. William A. Guner said he will have to do some extensive research to find an answer to the problem. Gainesville has never had a tie election before and the city's election machinery makes no provision for a runoff.

Will Retire Bonds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—More than $73 million of the original $326 million in Ohio Turnpike revenue bonds will be retired by the end of this year, the Turnpike Commission announced Tuesday.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Exit Crying

No industry is more vulnerable to satire yet has less of a sense of humor about itself than television. It doesn't want to be reminded—even in jest—that it allows a virtual outsider to "buy" 1,100 volunteer families (with Audimeters) who dictate what programs should be on the air.

Hal Humphrey

Neither do the TV industry's big domes like to be reminded that one man (Charley Douglas) with a home-made laugh machine determines where the laughs should come on most of TV's so-called comedy shows.

GROWN MEN in TV program departments have been known to break into tears when a name competitive to the sponsor's inadvertently gets by the script censor. One of the all-time classics was the day in TV when the Pilgrims landed on Plymouth Rock again, but the show was sponsored by General Motors.

Where else but in TV is a dramatist told to eliminate a "hell" or a "damn" from a script which later is interrupted by a commercial warning against "irregularity" or prescribing a painless remedy for hemorrhoids?

In an effort to relieve some of these ridiculous tensions and prove the world wasn't really coming to an end, Milton Berle thought he'd poke some fun at himself and the industry next month when his own show is pink-slipped from ABC. He was going to call his final show (Jan. 13) "Exit Laughing," and cancel as many other canceled-this-season stars as he could to help him.

ABC'S BRASS nixed Berle's idea on the spurious grounds that "it would embarrass the guest talent." It wouldn't occur to a TV vice president with tunnel vision that the "guest talent" in this case wouldn't sign on if they felt embarrassed.

Obviously it was ABC who feared the embarrassment. It premiered more new shows this season than CBS and NBC and canceled more before the season was half under way.

Since no one at ABC except Berle, wanted to exit laughing the comic came up with another idea for his final show, one which the network also turned down.

"We were going to set up a banquet table like we have at the Friars Club and George Jessel was to be toastmaster. I was going to get the award for 'Man of the Half Year.' Don Rickles, George Burns, Red Buttons and others would have delivered speeches after Jessel rapped the gavel and started the eulogy with a 'Dearly beloved, we are gathered here, and you know the rest. I think it could have been pretty funny."

BERLE RECALLS that TV didn't used to be so sensitive and lacking in a sense of humor. A decade ago there were TV plays based on the foibles of TV and its Madison Ave. mentors.

TV Guide once devoted its entire awards show to satirical sketches needling network shows and personalities. Berle himself once did a devastating monologue on TV when he appeared as New York host for an Emmy Awards special.

The networks are losing their sense of humor, no doubt about it," he says, "and it's hurting them. Everything is too pat now, and the public is getting bored. The networks forget the public is hip and that they made them that way. But now they steer away from anything different, and we don't get a chance to be adult for that hip audience."

LOOKING at this season's TV record, one would have to agree that someone is getting bored. Nearly one-third of the 33 new network series were canceled within weeks after the season was launched amid a multimillion-dollar network promotion campaign hailing it as the "best ever."

Even by the industry's kooky Nielsen measuring system, only three of those new series were in the most recent Nielsen "Top 40."

Still, there is no sign from any of the networks that they would welcome something adult in TV fare, so the Hollywood film producers keep restirring the old formulae, and the attrition goes merrily along its way to the tune of the same old laugh tracks.

Period Called 'The Holidays'

NEW YORK (NEA) — If more people would give a thought to what's between their shoulders and feet during the next few weeks, they might lose some weight.

And fat families mean good business for such groups as those who produce the low-calorie food products. The California Canners and Growers, with more than 57 low - calorie items, estimates the 1966 market was $300 million and will continue to grow.

HOWEVER, the American Medical Association and government nutrition experts point out that low - calorie foods often are a more expensive way to shed weight than just cutting back on what you eat in three well - balanced meals a day.

Survivors Of Sneak Attack Gathering For Anniversary

PEARL HARBOR, Hawaii (AP) — Survivors of the Japanese sneak attack on Pearl Harbor 25 years ago began gathering today for an anniversary ceremony at the National Memorial Cemetery of the Pacific in Punchbowl Crater.

Secretary of the Navy Paul H. Nitze gives the main memorial address to 900 survivors and their families.

The ceremony was sponsored by the Pearl Harbor Survivors Association, whose members have been touring the islands this week, showing their families what it was like on that Sunday in 1941.

All branches of the military and every veteran's organization were represented at the quarter-century ceremonies.

A less elaborate service was planned for sunset aboard the USS Arizona Memorial, built on the hulk of the battleship that went down under Japanese bombs with the loss of 1,102 lives.

A small delegation of high-ranking military officers, civilians and officials of veterans' organizations were to board the Memorial and hear Rear Adm. Henry Persons speak.

Dies At Age 85

CHICAGO (AP) — Alice Higinbotham Patterson, 85, divorced wife of the late Joseph Medill Patterson, founder of the New York Daily News and copublisher of the Chicago Tribune, died Tuesday. Mrs. Patterson was the daughter of Harlow Niles Higinbotham, an early pioneer of Chicago who became a partner of Marshall Field and helped build Marshall Field and Co.

Flood Perils Part Of Utah And Arizona

Heavy seasonal rains moved inland from the West Coast today, threatening southern Utah and northern Arizona with widespread flooding.

The six-day storm forced more than 500 persons from their homes in California, hardest hit of the Pacific states. California also counted more than a score of storm-caused traffic fatalities, several collapsed bridges and stalled trains.

Rains in southern Utah isolated Zion National Park and threatened a dam 18 miles north of St. George. Baker Dam on Utah Highway 18 was reported overflowing, and a state of emergency was declared in the farm area.

"Three more feet and she'll go," said Sgt. Marion Graff, Utah Highway Patrol dispatcher.

More than 5½ inches of rain have been recorded in four days at St. George. Many farms already have been inundated and property damage could run into the millions, authorities said.

At least 22 persons were stranded in their homes near Sedona, Ariz., by Oak Creek, flooding after an estimated seven inches of rain since Sunday. The only bridge in the vicinity was 10 feet under water.

At Munds Park, south of Flagstaff, nine inches of rain have fallen since Sunday, and Flagstaff reported almost four inches. A flood alert was issued for the upper Verde and upper Tonto basins east of Prescott, Ariz.

Rain began falling in New Mexico and snow fell in the mountains of Colorado, already covered with heavy snowfall. Hazardous-driving warnings were out in that area.

Southern California and the south San Joaquin Valley suffered heavily in the coastal downpours, up to 19 inches in a 27-hour period.

Elsewhere, rain fell along the southeast Florida Coast, and from the central Gulf and lower Missouri Valley to the eastern Great Lakes. Cold wave warnings remained in effect overnight for north central and extreme northwest Minnesota.

Legion Sponsors Speech Contest

American Legion posts in the 1st District of West Virginia, which embraces Hancock, Brooke, Ohio, Marshall and Wetzel counties, have undertaken sponsorship of an American heritage contest in which sixth-graders may compete for personal and school recognition.

The project is the "Lincoln Elocution Contest" in which sixth-graders will be judged for their recitations of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address.

The area contests will be held to coincide with the 16th president's birthday, Feb. 12, at public and parochial schools and Legion posts in the 1st District. The District finals will be held at the Wellsburg Post Home on March 1 at 7:30 p. m. Contestants will be judged on the basis of poise, elocution, diction and memory.

Richard E. Davies of Morgantown, department commander, said the contest is being promoted by the Legion in the cause of patriotism. "Lincoln's famous address at Gettysburg is considered among the greatest gems of oratory the world has produced and these inspiring words bear repeating often, especially in the pressure-cooker world of today," he said.

Survivors Of Sneak Attack Gathering For Anniversary

PEARL HARBOR, Hawaii (AP) — Survivors of the Japanese sneak attack on Pearl Harbor 25 years ago began gathering today for an anniversary ceremony at the National Memorial Cemetery of the Pacific in Punchbowl Crater.

Secretary of the Navy Paul H. Nitze gives the main memorial address to 900 survivors and their families.

The ceremony was sponsored by the Pearl Harbor Survivors Association, whose members have been touring the islands this week, showing their families what it was like on that Sunday in 1941.

All branches of the military and every veteran's organization were represented at the quarter-century ceremonies.

A less elaborate service was planned for sunset aboard the USS Arizona Memorial, built on the hulk of the battleship that went down under Japanese bombs with the loss of 1,102 lives.

A small delegation of high-ranking military officers, civilians and officials of veterans' organizations were to board the Memorial and hear Rear Adm. Henry Persons speak.

Lofty Outpost Over Pacific

Communication, Weather Satellite Put Into Orbit

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —A sparkling new "public benefactor" satellite raced toward a lofty Pacific outpost today, aiming to test advanced techniques for space communications and weather forecasting.

Among the satellite's goals are the first continuous weather pictures over one area of the globe, color television transmission between the United States and the Far East, and the evaluation of a space communications system for commercial and military aircraft.

The 1,547-pound payload, called ATS for Applications Technology Satellite, bolted away Tuesday night from Cape Kennedy atop an Atlas-Agena rocket.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported the rocket performed perfectly and drilled ATS into an initial transfer orbit ranging from 115 to 22,749 miles above the earth.

"So far it looks beautiful," a NASA official reported.

Today, a kick motor was to fire and place ATS in a so-called synchronous orbit 22,300 miles above the Pacific. It would seem to hover above Christmas Island.

The satellite is the first of five $9-million ATS payloads which officials said are being built "for the express purpose of bringing practical benefits to mankind from space technology."

From its stationary orbit, ATS would be able to photograph one-third of the earth on a continuing basis—providing meteorologists with a record of the birth and movement of major storm systems.

Ground stations in Australia, Japan and the United States planned to swap voice, radio and television communications through the satellite, using frequencies not tried on earlier communications satellites.

PTA Event Canceled

SALINEVILLE — A meeting of the Salineville Parent-Teacher Association scheduled Thursday night has been canceled, Mrs. Sue Raffle, president, said because the Christmas program originally planned was not prepared due to the school operating problems. The PTA will meet Jan. 12.

Airlift Ends At Ashtabula Corporation

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP) — The airlift to Union Carbide Corp.'s strikebound mining and metal division plant here has ended.

The company started the helicopter airlift of supplies last week to bring provisions to non-striking workers inside after plant entrances were blocked by mass picketing.

An agreement worked out Tuesday by representatives of the company and United Steelworkers Local 3081 ended both the airlift and the threat of mass picketing.

The agreement was worked out with the assistance of Ashtabula County Common Pleas Court Judge Roland Pontius.

Reportedly, more than 200 salaried employes had been working to keep the plant running since the 850 union members walked out Aug. 28.

After the mass picketing started Nov. 29, the salaried workers stayed in the plant and were supplied by the helicopter facilities.

Pickets had blocked gates to all four company plants here, alleging that Union Carbide was importing strike-breakers.

Under the agreement, only four pickets are allowed at each metals plant gate, and all pickets are barred from the other three plants.

The union, however, won the right to inspect gates between all four plants.

The union struck Aug. 29 over contract issues including wages, health and safety standards and fringe benefits. No negotiations have been held since the walkout started.

Lofty Outpost Over Pacific

Communication, Weather Satellite Put Into Orbit

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —A sparkling new "public benefactor" satellite raced toward a lofty Pacific outpost today, aiming to test advanced techniques for space communications and weather forecasting.

Among the satellite's goals are the first continuous weather pictures over one area of the globe, color television transmission between the United States and the Far East, and the evaluation of a space communications system for commercial and military aircraft.

The 1,547-pound payload, called ATS for Applications Technology Satellite, bolted away Tuesday night from Cape Kennedy atop an Atlas-Agena rocket.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported the rocket performed perfectly and drilled ATS into an initial transfer orbit ranging from 115 to 22,749 miles above the earth.

"So far it looks beautiful," a NASA official reported.

Today, a kick motor was to fire and place ATS in a so-called synchronous orbit 22,300 miles above the Pacific. It would seem to hover above Christmas Island.

The satellite is the first of five $9-million ATS payloads which officials said are being built "for the express purpose of bringing practical benefits to mankind from space technology."

From its stationary orbit, ATS would be able to photograph one-third of the earth on a continuing basis—providing meteorologists with a record of the birth and movement of major storm systems.

Ground stations in Australia, Japan and the United States planned to swap voice, radio and television communications through the satellite, using frequencies not tried on earlier communications satellites.

PTA Event Canceled

SALINEVILLE — A meeting of the Salineville Parent-Teacher Association scheduled Thursday night has been canceled, Mrs. Sue Raffle, president, said because the Christmas program originally planned was not prepared due to the school operating problems. The PTA will meet Jan. 12.

Airlift Ends At Ashtabula Corporation

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP) — The airlift to Union Carbide Corp.'s strikebound mining and metal division plant here has ended.

The company started the helicopter airlift of supplies last week to bring provisions to non-striking workers inside after plant entrances were blocked by mass picketing.

An agreement worked out Tuesday by representatives of the company and United Steelworkers Local 3081 ended both the airlift and the threat of mass picketing.

The agreement was worked out with the assistance of Ashtabula County Common Pleas Court Judge Roland Pontius.

Reportedly, more than 200 salaried employes had been working to keep the plant running since the 850 union members walked out Aug. 28.

After the mass picketing started Nov. 29, the salaried workers stayed in the plant and were supplied by the helicopter facilities.

Pickets had blocked gates to all four company plants here, alleging that Union Carbide was importing strike-breakers.

Under the agreement, only four pickets are allowed at each metals plant gate, and all pickets are barred from the other three plants.

The union, however, won the right to inspect gates between all four plants.

The union struck Aug. 29 over contract issues including wages, health and safety standards and fringe benefits. No negotiations have been held since the walkout started.

Santa and the Giant Fighter

By Lucrece Beale

An elfite persuades the boy who believes in giants to go to Santa Land and fight the giant who has captured the Fairy Queen.

CHAPTER THREE

It's a long long way to Santa Land and very few people know the way.

William Henry Christopher Preeserve — now known as Billy the Giant Fighter — was glad he had the elfite to guide him because even with directions he was sure he would never find his way.

It was very dark. At first this was no problem because the elfite wore earmuffs and each muff had a little light attached to it. All Billy had to do was follow the twin lights bouncing ahead of him through the woods.

BUT AFTER a while even the elfite appeared to be lost. "Of course it would be much easier if we had the moon," he complained. "But since Goko the giant has stolen it out of the sky everything is all mixed up and there's no telling where we might end up."

They went north, east, west and south. They seemed to be going in circles and the elfite hurried along muttering. "Oh, dear! There's really no time to lose."

As he rushed along he bounced higher and higher as if to make up for their lack of progress. Billy stumbled after him bobbing his head up and down as he tried to follow the bouncing lights.

Suddenly the lights disappeared.

"Where are you?" cried Billy. "I've lost you!"

There was no answer. Billy ran back and forth calling frantically. He stumbled over a log and sprawled on the ground. Right beside his face were the two lights—very dim.

"Say something!" he cried. "What happened?"

—:—

BILLY reached out and picked up a huge soft toad. Two lights blinked dimly inside the toad.

The airchoo bird rose gracefully into the air, carrying Billy.

Billy cried, "You ate the elfite! You horrible toad!"

"Not at all," said the toad giving a huge belch. "I was here in my own bed having a rather restless night. I opened my mouth to yawn and something hideous bounced in. I assure you I find whatever it is very indigestible and also a most extraordinary invasion of privacy."

All this time the two little lights inside the toad were going blink - blink - blink. Billy drew his wooden sword and held it over the toad.

"What on earth do you think you are going to do?" asked the toad in alarm.

"You'll see!" retorted Billy and he brought the flat of his sword down on the toad"s fat rear end. The astonished toad gulped, and his enormous jaw dropped open. The elfite bounced out and streaked away through the woods with Billy at his heels.

Fortunately, daylight had now come and the elfite was able to find his way to a shrunken oak that stood in a nearby forest. Here the elfite stopped and said, "This is as far as I go. The airchoo bird will take you the rest of the way."

HE KNOCKED three times on the trunk of the tree. The branches parted and a small white bird fluttered to the ground.

"This is an airchoo bird," explained the elfite. "He can fly fast as an airplane and steady as a choo choo. He'll take you straight to Santa Land."

"But how can I ride him?" exclaimed Billy. "He's almost as small as you."

"Try and see."

Billy straddled the bird and a curious thing happened. Either the airchoo bird grew big or Billy grew small. Whatever it was the bird rose gracefully into the air with Billy riding ever so easily on his back.

They zoomed over cities, across oceans, past mountain peaks and landed finally in a snow-blanketed valley.

It was Santa Land!

Billy climbed off the airchoo bird's back and ran as fast as he could towards Santa's little red house. As he ran he held his wooden sword ready in case Goko the giant was already there.

Brown Again Urges 'Zip' For Mailing

Postmaster Samuel W. Brown renewed his appeal today for the use of zip codes with Christmas mail.

He pointed out the code helps cut down the number of times a piece of mail must be sorted before reaching its final destination. "This saves time in delivery and cuts down the cost of moving the mail," he explained.

"We expect a record-breaking mail volume this Christmas and will need all the help we can get. There are three easy ways in which you can cooperate with the postal service and at the same time assure that you get on-time delivery for your holiday gifts and greetings —shop early, mail early and use zip codes.

"Just the other day we received for mailing 10 cards with names, street and numbers and East Liverpool plus a zip code number. Some of the streets did duplicate streets in East Liverpool, but the zip code number on the envelopes showed the postal clerk that they should all go to East Palestine. So, but for the Zip, these cards never would have reached their destination."

The postmaster also reminded that beginning Jan. 1 that bulk mailers face mandatory pre-sorting of their mail by zip code numbers "or paying the greater amount of postage per piece for not doing so."

Javits Switch May Put Negro On Senate Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — A switch by Sen. Jacob K. Javits may open a place for the nation's first popularly elected Negro senator to serve on a Senate committee headed by an all-out segregationist.

Javits is reported to have the inside track for a Republican vacancy on the powerful Senate Appropriations Committee. The New Yorker served briefly on this group in 1962 but was dumped from membership when Democrats increased their senatorial margin in 1962.

If senators with greater seniority step aside as expected, Javits will get the Appropriations assignment and give up his post on the Judiciary Committee headed by Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss. This may open the way for Sen.-elect Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., a Negro, to get on Eastland's committee.

Brooke, who visited Washington briefly to interview prospective staff members, said he would be happy to get such an assignment.

Javits was represented as reluctant to leave the Judiciary Committee, where he has been an outstanding advocate of civil rights.

But he is up for re-election in 1968 — if he doesn't land a vice presidential nomination — and an Appropriations Committee spot would give him an opportunity to show what he can do for New York in the field of federal allotments.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, the Republican leader, said recently that he will demand that each of five new Republican senators be given places on at least two major committees.

He said he has not discussed with Sen. Mike Mansfield, the Democratic leader, a change in party ratio on committees. Republicans gained three seats but Democrats still control the new Senate 64-36.

The Republicans permit no member to serve on more than one of four specified committees — Appropriations, Finance, Foreign Relations and Armed Services. This works toward giving freshmen Republicans better assignments than they otherwise would have.

Probe May Continue In Sheppard Murder

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cuyahoga County Grand Jury investigation into the unsolved Marilyn Sheppard murder case could continue if jury foreman William R. Pringle wants to call further witnesses.

County Prosecutor John T. Corrigan, who called for the probe, said Tuesday that he does not plan to call any more witnesses, but indicated that Pringle might.

Youth Awaits Jury Action In Tavern Case

Lester Chapman, 20, of 724 Green Ln. pleaded guilty Tuesday in Columbiana County Southwest Court at Lisbon to a charge of breaking into Pop's Tavern, Wellsville, early last Friday.

Judge J. L. MacDonald bound him over to the grand jury, reduced his bond from $1,000 to $500 and ordered him returned to the County Jail in lieu of bond. William Bush of Wellsville was Chapman's court-appointed counsel.

Carl L. Crowell of Hanoverton was fined $30 and costs for speeding and Harold L. Flynt of 238 W. Lincoln Way, Lisbon, $5 and costs for passing traffic on a hill. They pleaded guilty.

Richard W. Fletcher of Wadsworth forfeited a $15 appearance bond on a speeding charge.

Customary Local Type

Christian Congregations Receiving Critical Looks

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Some critical looks are being taken today at the customary type of local Christian congregations.

When human environments change, churches need to "lay aside certain forms and adopt new ones," an interdenominational study report said.

It was among findings being considered at the General Assembly of the National Council of Churches as it sought improved means of communicating the gospel.

In question was whether — or to what extent — changes in the traditional parish organization are indicated by present conditions of mobile urban living.

"Christians from the earliest days adopted patterns of common life which were provided by the surrounding religions, cultures and society," the report said.

It added that Christian groups then functioned in various ways in "relation to the synagogue, the households, the army or the market place."

Present congregational structures developed in the Middle Ages to serve in "the relatively stabile conditions of local communities," the report notes, but adds modern, industrialized shifting populations create a new situation.

What should be done about it? That's an issue of long range analysis by the council.

Its general secretary, the Rev. Dr. Edwin Espy, said: "Traditional patterns of parish life consume so much time that an alert minister and responsible leaders often feel that their efforts border on the meaningless.

"How shall we recruit young men for the ministry in the face of this widespread image of the parish?"

The study report does not conclude the parish structure "has no longer any validity today" but it does suggest that the greatly altered conditions of modern life demand modified church operations.

The council elected Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, president of the University of Oregon and a longtime top federal official, as its new president.

The assembly, deliberating a proposed policy statement concerning the Viet Nam war, is to be addressed tonight by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

5 Muslims Seized In Plot To Take Over Prayer Center

NEW YORK (AP) — Detectives hiding in a Moslem mosque have seized five Black Muslims, including their scimitar-waving leader, in what authorities said was an attempt to take over the prayer center from its Egyptian-born director.

The five were identified as followers of Elijah Muhammad, head of the virulently antiwhite Black Muslim organization.

Police said one of the Muslims told Dr. Muhammad Rauf, director of the center used by Moslem diplomatic personnel: "We are going to take over this mosque. Our mosque was burned down. The people who regularly attend this mosque will from now on be at the black man's feet."

The five-story building on Riverside Drive in Manhattan is one of two Islamic mosques in the United States. Worshippers at the center include several ambassadors to the United Nations.

In reconstructing the takeover attempt, Rauf told police that he was in his study Tuesday when two men and Farragan Muhammad, the group's leader entered.

Farragan, holding a scimitar, ordered Rauf to give him the building's records, books and deeds, police said. Rauf told them to return in the late afternoon when he claimed his secretary would be able to help them.

The Muslims promised to return, threatening Rauf's family and warning him, "If you don't agree it will be the end of you."

Calls were placed to the police, the Egyptian consulate, the American delegation at the United Nations and the State Department.

Eight detectives were waiting for the Muslims in the mosque when they returned and one announced: "I'm here with my brothers to take over."

The five were held on charges of attempted robbery, attempted extortion, coercion and unlawful entry. All gave New York addresses except Farragan Muhammad who said he lives "all over planet earth."

Sister Recalls Johnson Was Always Bossy

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — In a childhood recollection of President Johnson, his sister says he was "always bossy" and their parents always expected him "to be in high places — at least a senator."

Mrs. O. Price Bobbitt of Austin, Tex., told a reporter for the Columbia State Tuesday that the President was "given more responsibility" by their parents because he was the oldest of five children.

"I think he thought he was papa," she said. "He was always bossy."

Mrs. Bobbitt said that before her mother died, she had drawn up a genealogical history.

"People have told us that never before has there been a president who has had as much material available on his forebears," she said. "My mother was well educated and she prepared this material for all of us and because she thought some day Lyndon might need it."

Mrs. Bobbitt was in Columbia visiting friends after spending two weeks in New York. Her husband is vice president of the Texas Broadcasting Co., Austin. The Bobbitts have one son, Phillip, a student at Princeton University.

"Everywhere I've gone, I've had the problem of being Lyndon's sister," Mrs. Bobbitt said. "Since he's gotten to be president, I've given up — it's bigger than both of us."

Robert Owen Reports $751 In Vote Expense

Robert Owen of East Liverpool, Democrat, spent $751.43 in an unsuccessful bid for a county commissioner's seat in the Nov. 8 general election, he said in a sworn statement of campaign expenses on file today with the County Election Board.

Owen is the latest candidate to file the itemized report on receipts and expenditures. Similar reports are required of all candidates, whether or not they were successful, and from committees which supported or opposed any candidate or issue in the election.

Dec. 23 at 4 p. m. is the deadline for the reports. They are required under the so - called "corrupt practices act," which puts a ceiling on campaign spending.

Javits Switch May Put Negro On Senate Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — A switch by Sen. Jacob K. Javits may open a place for the nation's first popularly elected Negro senator to serve on a Senate committee headed by an all-out segregationist.

Javits is reported to have the inside track for a Republican vacancy on the powerful Senate Appropriations Committee. The New Yorker served briefly on this group in 1962 but was dumped from membership when Democrats increased their senatorial margin in 1962.

If senators with greater seniority step aside as expected, Javits will get the Appropriations assignment and give up his post on the Judiciary Committee headed by Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss. This may open the way for Sen.-elect Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., a Negro, to get on Eastland's committee.

Brooke, who visited Washington briefly to interview prospective staff members, said he would be happy to get such an assignment.

Javits was represented as reluctant to leave the Judiciary Committee, where he has been an outstanding advocate of civil rights.

But he is up for re-election in 1968 — if he doesn't land a vice presidential nomination — and an Appropriations Committee spot would give him an opportunity to show what he can do for New York in the field of federal allotments.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, the Republican leader, said recently that he will demand that each of five new Republican senators be given places on at least two major committees.

He said he has not discussed with Sen. Mike Mansfield, the Democratic leader, a change in party ratio on committees. Republicans gained three seats but Democrats still control the new Senate 64-36.

The Republicans permit no member to serve on more than one of four specified committees — Appropriations, Finance, Foreign Relations and Armed Services. This works toward giving freshmen Republicans better assignments than they otherwise would have.

Customary Local Type

Christian Congregations Receiving Critical Looks

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Some critical looks are being taken today at the customary type of local Christian congregations.

When human environments change, churches need to "lay aside certain forms and adopt new ones," an interdenominational study report said.

It was among findings being considered at the General Assembly of the National Council of Churches as it sought improved means of communicating the gospel.

In question was whether — or to what extent — changes in the traditional parish organization are indicated by present conditions of mobile urban living.

"Christians from the earliest days adopted patterns of common life which were provided by the surrounding religions, cultures and society," the report said.

It added that Christian groups then functioned in various ways in "relation to the synagogue, the households, the army or the market place."

Present congregational structures developed in the Middle Ages to serve in "the relatively stabile conditions of local communities," the report notes, but adds modern, industrialized shifting populations create a new situation.

What should be done about it? That's an issue of long range analysis by the council.

Its general secretary, the Rev. Dr. Edwin Espy, said: "Traditional patterns of parish life consume so much time that an alert minister and responsible leaders often feel that their efforts border on the meaningless.

"How shall we recruit young men for the ministry in the face of this widespread image of the parish?"

The study report does not conclude the parish structure "has no longer any validity today" but it does suggest that the greatly altered conditions of modern life demand modified church operations.

The council elected Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, president of the University of Oregon and a longtime top federal official, as its new president.

The assembly, deliberating a proposed policy statement concerning the Viet Nam war, is to be addressed tonight by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

5 Muslims Seized In Plot To Take Over Prayer Center

NEW YORK (AP) — Detectives hiding in a Moslem mosque have seized five Black Muslims, including their scimitar-waving leader, in what authorities said was an attempt to take over the prayer center from its Egyptian-born director.

The five were identified as followers of Elijah Muhammad, head of the virulently antiwhite Black Muslim organization.

Police said one of the Muslims told Dr. Muhammad Rauf, director of the center used by Moslem diplomatic personnel: "We are going to take over this mosque. Our mosque was burned down. The people who regularly attend this mosque will from now on be at the black man's feet."

The five-story building on Riverside Drive in Manhattan is one of two Islamic mosques in the United States. Worshippers at the center include several ambassadors to the United Nations.

In reconstructing the takeover attempt, Rauf told police that he was in his study Tuesday when two men and Farragan Muhammad, the group's leader entered.

Farragan, holding a scimitar, ordered Rauf to give him the building's records, books and deeds, police said. Rauf told them to return in the late afternoon when he claimed his secretary would be able to help them.

The Muslims promised to return, threatening Rauf's family and warning him, "If you don't agree it will be the end of you."

Calls were placed to the police, the Egyptian consulate, the American delegation at the United Nations and the State Department.

Eight detectives were waiting for the Muslims in the mosque when they returned and one announced: "I'm here with my brothers to take over."

The five were held on charges of attempted robbery, attempted extortion, coercion and unlawful entry. All gave New York addresses except Farragan Muhammad who said he lives "all over planet earth."

Sister Recalls Johnson Was Always Bossy

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — In a childhood recollection of President Johnson, his sister says he was "always bossy" and their parents always expected him "to be in high places — at least a senator."

Mrs. O. Price Bobbitt of Austin, Tex., told a reporter for the Columbia State Tuesday that the President was "given more responsibility" by their parents because he was the oldest of five children.

"I think he thought he was papa," she said. "He was always bossy."

Mrs. Bobbitt said that before her mother died, she had drawn up a genealogical history.

"People have told us that never before has there been a president who has had as much material available on his forebears," she said. "My mother was well educated and she prepared this material for all of us and because she thought some day Lyndon might need it."

Mrs. Bobbitt was in Columbia visiting friends after spending two weeks in New York. Her husband is vice president of the Texas Broadcasting Co., Austin. The Bobbitts have one son, Phillip, a student at Princeton University.

"Everywhere I've gone, I've had the problem of being Lyndon's sister," Mrs. Bobbitt said. "Since he's gotten to be president, I've given up — it's bigger than both of us."

Robert Owen Reports $751 In Vote Expense

Robert Owen of East Liverpool, Democrat, spent $751.43 in an unsuccessful bid for a county commissioner's seat in the Nov. 8 general election, he said in a sworn statement of campaign expenses on file today with the County Election Board.

Owen is the latest candidate to file the itemized report on receipts and expenditures. Similar reports are required of all candidates, whether or not they were successful, and from committees which supported or opposed any candidate or issue in the election.

Dec. 23 at 4 p. m. is the deadline for the reports. They are required under the so - called "corrupt practices act," which puts a ceiling on campaign spending.

Christ's Birth Portrayed

LISBON — Twelve "seed pictures" of Christ's birth will be on display from 2 to 4:30 p.m. Sunday in Fellowship Hall at the First Methodist Church.

The mosaics are the work of Mrs. Fred Shiltz, wife of the pastor, and four boys of the congregation — Kenneth and Richard Pittenger, sons of Mr. and Mrs. William Pittenger; Wayne Herrod, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Herrod, and Richard Estell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Estell.

They will be at the church to answer questions about the pictures.

The five artists combined to create the Nativity scene covering a sheet of plywood. It took hours of work in the parsonage recreation room.

Each boy made one picture and Mrs. Shiltz the remainder. They chose designs from Christmas cards. The seeds are glued to the design drawn on the plywood, then sprayed with shellac.

Mrs. Shiltz said 57 kinds of seeds and related materials were used. The only artificial material employed was glitter in blue, silver, gold and green. Cake coloring was used to dye hominy grits and rice, but all the other color is natural.

Divergent Views About Viet Spur Jostling On Campuses

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) —Divergent student views on the Viet Nam war have led to jostling and shouting incidents at U.S. Marine Corps recruiting booths at the University of Maryland and the University of Wisconsin.

A loud, informal debate developed in the lobby of the University of Maryland Student Union Tuesday when members of Students for a Democratic Society set up a table of their own opposite the military booth.

A sign which said, "For War Crimes, Sign Up Here" and pointed to the Marine exhibit, was ripped from the hands of one student by another.

An SDS spokesman said his group set up its exhibit to challenge the Marines about Viet Nam. The SDS favors U.S. withdrawal from Southeast Asia.

At Madison, Wis., a shoving and pushing melee erupted Tuesday when a group calling itself the Committee for Direct Action confronted the Marine recruiting effort in the university's Memorial Union Building.

Pickets carried placards saying Marines trained killers.

A disturbance developed when action committee backers tried to question Marines about alleged incidents in the Philippine Islands and Korea. The Marines did not comment.

A campus policeman broke up a brief shoving match.

Expansion Plans Set

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The Dayton Power and Light Co. said Tuesday that its construction plans for the next five years call for outlay of $200 million, including $46 million next year.

BBC Bans Cinderella, Prince From TV Show

LONDON (AP) — The British Broadcasting Corp. today banned a contemptuous Cinderella in a miniskirt and a sex-starved Prince Charming who strangles her at midnight from its Christmas television schedule.

The BBC canceled plans to put on "Almost Cinderella," a version of the fairy tale by playwright Dennis Potter.

"If I can arrange my career so that I never have to write for BBC television again, I intend to do so," said Potter.

"I wanted to bring out the impact of the story on adults. I saw Cinderella as a modern girl in a miniskirt, pretty contemptuous of everything. She doesn't even really want to go to the ball.

"Prince Charming comes out as a somewhat unstable character who has sexual problems because he cannot find satisfaction with other girls. He's a playboy and not a pleasant one."

"The story ends at midnight, and we use the cinematic clichés of Hollywood. Prince Charming, whom we have seen under great emotional stress, begins to strangle Cinderella in a very stylized way as the clock strikes.

"It is part of the mockery of the cliche of love at first sight."

Two weeks ago the BBC warned that a "psychological" version of Lewis Carroll's "Alice in Wonderland" which it will show on Dec. 28 might upset children. It will be televised late in the evening.

Guards Testify At Prisoner's Trial On Rioting

MARION, Ohio (AP)—Inmate David Lovejoy, on trial in connection with the Aug. 27 riot at Marion Correctional Institution, yelled "Let's tear the place up" during the rioting, a guard testified Tuesday.

The guard, John Dabney, was one of several guards to testify on the first day of Lovejoy's trial. The prisoner from Kent is believed to be the first man tried under a 1963 state prison riot law. He could be sentenced to 5 to 30 additional years in prison if found guilty of taking part in the riot.

Fifteen other prisoners await trial on the same charges. Melvin Billman, 27, of Mount Vernon is scheduled to stand trial later this week.

Defense attorneys said in opening statements that Lovejoy, 22, from Kent, did not join the rioters. They said he helped save the lives of some inmates overcome by smoke.

Two other guards testified that they saw Lovejoy breaking windows. The riot left 3,599 windows broken, prison Supt. LaMoyne Green testified, and damage from fires and other causes totaled about $100,000.

New Evaluation Program Being Conducted

By PHILIP WERDELL
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — When John Smith received a copy of his grades for the semester he found, to his intense dismay, that he had flunked all of his courses.

Not so unusual, you'd say? It is when you know that John Smith happens to be a college teacher and the courses he failed are the ones he teaches.

This new wrinkle in student-faculty relations is called a "teacher evaluation program" and it's being practiced at more than 200 colleges. Predictably, some teachers don't like the idea at all.

"This interesting but peculiar travesty," grumps Milton Goldberg, professor of literature at Antioch College, "insists upon an obligation of the teaching faculty to be judged by their intellectual subordinates."

—:—

OTHER teachers, who perhaps have been stung by a rough evaluation, say students are immature and rate teachers in the same spirit with which they select campus beauty queens.

But the casual student is gushing and cussing about courses being replaced by sophisticated questionnaires that allow a computer to diagnose teaching ailments.

These evaluations, say the proponents, provide data for teachers who want to improve. Teachers have the chance to determine what students think of a course.

And the critical comments in evaluations often pressure professors who are more concerned with research than teaching to spend more time preparing for their classes.

At schools like Antioch, where student participation is encouraged, the surveys are conducted confidentially by the administration and the results are used by deans to encourage better teaching.

AT MORE traditional schools such as Harvard, students conduct the polls and publish the results. They take the polls with or without the approval of the administration and depend upon student pressure to bring about change. Pressure comes when students don't sign up for a course because of bad reviews.

Why do students feel the need to rate professors? "Poor and uninspired teachers are plentiful and no one type or size of institution has a corner on the market," the Danforth Foundation reports. Often, potential faculty members feel that scholarship is more important than teaching.

But telling a teacher that his performance is a dud does not guarantee that he will improve. "Surveys can be very meaningful only if you ask the questions sufficiently precisely," says Peter Armacost, a representative of the American Association of Colleges who works with students in constructing new rating plans.

A good questionnaire should inspire faculty confidence in the poll, he says, adding that such a survey is likely to influence teaching performance whether the effort is administratively supported or not.

The successful efforts are quite sophisticated. At the University of North Carolina, the student government collects information on IBM cards. They can be processed rapidly and they allow the asking of many questions so that a professor can be rated in many areas of performance.

—:—

EVEN WHEN such sophisticated questions are posed, the results can still be inaccurate. Because filling out the questionnaire is voluntary, there is no assurance that a cross - section has been polled. A few students who hand in their questionnaires may evaluate and pan a course that hundreds attended.

In most cases, however, students grade professors like the professors grade them—most come out average, according to a study of ratings by the National Student Association.

The major problem with unpublished course and teacher evaluations is simply that the worst teachers usually do not take advantage of them," reports the National Student Association, which prefers published reports so that students can choose not to attend a class on the basis of a bad report.

The system at Antioch, where continued employment may be contingent on a fair rating, may explain part of the faculty opposition elsewhere. The political implications of giving students a direct voice in the selection and promotion of faculty members have given many professors anxious thoughts.

A STUDENT wrote a publication for the National Student Association on "Course and Teacher Evaluations," which tells students how to set up evaluations on their campuses.

It suggests first that faculty sponsors be recruited and the surveys be done only with the permission of faculty members until there is some evidence that the questionnaire is reliable and responsible.

Once this is established, ratings for all courses should be published whether the professors involved express an interest or not. NSA has no objection to giving students that direct voice in selecting and promoting faculty members.

LISBON — The Lisbon Teachers Association and the Community Scholars Loan Foundation's election conducted every two years could not be held Tuesday night at the high school because too few members attended, Cornell P. Monda, president reported.

He said the nominating committee comprised of Mrs. Fred Steele, secretary, and William Haifley, treasurer, will be in charge of balloting by mail for president, vice president and two trustees.

Ballots will be mailed to individuals and organizations who contributed to the fund in the last two years.

Europe's Real Feeling About LBJ

By LEON DENNEN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK

"At this very moment when skillful propaganda depicts President Johnson as a war-monger who delights in bombing North Vietnamese babies I am one of thousands of Europeans whom such crude propaganda cannot touch."

So writes Guy Vinatrel, the distinguished French journalist, political commentator and authority on Asia.

His letter to this writer is a comment on the wails of some Americans who shed crocodile tears over the decline of U.S. prestige in Europe.

The professional Cassandras cite the activities of a handful of European anti - American intellectuals as proof that American prestige hit a new low because of the Vietnamese conflict. Did not such seasoned America - haters as Britain's 94-year-old Lord Bertrand Russel and France's Jean Paul Sartre decide to create an "International War Crimes Tribunal" to "judge" President Johnson for his Viet Nam policies?

BUT THE Cassandras conveniently ignore the views of Guy Vinatrel and the thousands of Europeans like him who never forgot that young Americans fought and died in two world wars for Europe's freedom.

Yet Vinatrel's voice is certainly as authentic, if not more so, than the anti - American diatribes of the Russells and the Sartres. Here is a translation of some of his comments on the United States and Viet Nam conflict:

"It really does not matter what some newspapers and misguided intellectuals write or say about the United States. President Johnson has a majority of the American people with him.

"Your American labor unions support him in whatever must be done in Viet Nam. Your taxpayers pay their taxes and your youths fight the battles it has to fight.

"So there is no need for me, a Frenchman who must put up with De Gaulle, to tell Americans to hold fast. You are conscious of doing your duty on behalf of human freedom even in a place as far away as Southeast Asia.

"You are fully aware of what confusion and what stampede would follow the departure of your troops from Southeast Asia. Unless, of course, it were preceded by a negotiated ceasefire which will insure the freedom and independence of South Viet Nam.

"A people has the history it merits. Americans, I know, have meditated on the lessons of history. They have learned that dictators are never satisfied with what they have conquered today. Tomorrow, as you well know, they will seek new areas for subversion and conquest.

—:—

"FRANCE capitulated to Hitler in 1936 when he reoccupied the Rhineland. The demilitarization of the Rhineland was a symbol of the guarantee of the Allied victory over German militarism in 1918.

"Frightened by Hitler, the French abandoned Czechoslovakia in 1938. We entered the war to save Poland when it was already too late. We French paid dearly for our cowardice.

"Fortunately, you Americans know how to say 'no' to aggression. It is the only way for an aggressor to learn that his aggression will not pay.

"Indeed, we in Europe face a more secure future because young Americans are again resisting dictators and aggressors in Viet Nam.

"So do not be troubled by the clamor of those who do not have the courage to do what you are doing for the freedom of the world."

Guy Vinatrel's is only one voice. But he speaks for countless Europeans whose views reach the American people but rarely.

Within $360 Million Of Limit Now

Increase In $330-Billion Debt Limit May Be Asked

WASHINGTON (AP)—Treasury Department officials are considering asking Congress early next year for a quick increase in the $330-billion limit on the national debt.

The department announced Monday the debt came within $360.4 million of the limit last Wednesday. This was the closest the debt has come to the ceiling during the current fiscal year.

Officials said a decision whether to seek an increase in the debt limit is expected by the middle of this month.

Officials said the increased debt is due in part to tight money conditions, which prevented the government from selling some of its financial assets to the public.

—:—

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George A. Smathers is retiring as secretary of the Democratic Conference — one of three principal Senate Democratic leadership posts.

The Florida senator said in a letter to Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield that was released Monday that he would not seek re-election to the post because of health reasons.

—:—

The U.S. Chamber of Commerce is forming a special advisory panel on urban transportation to consider the role of the federal government in the field and to review existing chamber transportation policies.

B'nai B'rith has established a $12.1 million budget to carry out the Jewish service organization's 1967 national programs.

Vet, 68, Gets Notice For Draft As Dropout

SUN CITY, Ariz. (AP) — Vernon Sperry's decision to go to college brought these results:

After he enrolled in an art course at Glendale Community College, the school assigned him to night classes.

Sperry found the night drive to and from his home tiring and applied for a tuition refund.

"Two weeks later, the college advised me that I had been dropped due to absenteeism," Sperry said.

Now Sperry, a 68-year-old veteran of World Wars I and II, says he has a letter ordering him to report to the draft as a school dropout.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Am I living in the dark ages or do I expect too much of my husband? Cocktail parties are my problem.

We walk into a cocktail party and off my husband goes for an hour or two or three. Occasionally, he'll whiz by and shout, "How are you doing?" But he's gone before I'm able to reply, "I'm doing absolutely lousy, thank you. I've been trapped by the world's biggest bores and my feet are killing me."

When I tell my husband I hate being stranded at cocktail parties but I could tolerate them if he would stay with me, he replies, "I don't like them myself, but it's an opportunity to make important contacts and just being seen is good for business. I can talk to YOU at home."

Am I being immature, as my husband insists? What can I do to cure him of abandoning me at these grueling affairs? — IGNORED WIFE.

Dear Wife: You have two choices, Lady. Either go to the cocktail parties with your husband and be prepared to fend off the bores or stay at home where you probably will feel twice as sorry for yourself.

Just Pretending

Dear Ann: I'm a 14-year-old girl who is writing to you because if I confessed this to anyone they'd think I was nuts.

This summer I went to Norway with my parents. So many wonderful things happened on the trip. When I came home, I felt all grown up.

Before I went away I hated doing dishes and making beds and cooking and baking. Now I find housekeeping is a lot of fun. And do you know why? Because I pretend I'm grown up and the house is mine. I even have an imaginary husband. Do you think I'm crazy, Ann? — MISS PRETEND.

Dear Miss: No, I don't. It's fun to pretend. And as long as you know you are pretending there is no harm in it. As it says in the song, if you want your dream to come true, you have to have a dream.

I'm printing your letter in the hope that other teenagers who hate housework might get an idea. (If it works, millions of mothers will bless you!)

Quit Pretending

Dear Ann: Last September I married a divorcee who has an 18-year-old son. Before we were married, she persuaded me to permit the boy to live with us until February when he would volunteer for the Army.

February has come and gone and the boy is still here. He is mouthy, insolent, arrogant and he also is wrecking our marriage.

When I came from work tonight my wife was crying. She said the boy had been baiting her all day. They argue constantly and he gets on her nerves but she never has disciplined him.

The boy has a job and is self-supporting. He gets along fairly well with his father who is unmarried. I feel he should go live there. I hate to make my wife choose between the boy and me but that's the way things are headed.

What is your opinion of this mess? — ON THE EDGE.

Dear Edge: Remind your wife of the agreement that the boy would leave in February. But don't give her an ultimatum. It could wreck your marriage. Speak your piece and let's hope she has sense enough to do what should have been done in February.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of the Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

SHELBYVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Cashier Bill Tingle went into action Tuesday when a stranger walked into the People's Bank of Bagdad, Ky., and demanded money.

—Fired three bullets into the tires of the getaway car.

—Caught up with the unarmed man on the outskirts of town and knocked him cold with a gun.

—Held the suspect until state police arrived.

Officers later charged Richard King, 43, of Louisville, with attempted robbery.

Three Men Learned It's A Small World

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Three men learned it's a small world when they got off an airliner that flew from Miami to Los Angeles Tuesday.

In the Los Angeles airport sat Miami police detective Sgt. John Haywood, waiting for a flight to Miami.

Haywood's superiors said he recognized the three travelers as men wanted for questioning about a Miami crime. He had Los Angeles officers arrest them on suspicion of robbery.

Within $360 Million Of Limit Now

Increase In $330-Billion Debt Limit May Be Asked

WASHINGTON (AP)—Treasury Department officials are considering asking Congress early next year for a quick increase in the $330-billion limit on the national debt.

The department announced Monday the debt came within $360.4 million of the limit last Wednesday. This was the closest the debt has come to the ceiling during the current fiscal year.

Officials said a decision whether to seek an increase in the debt limit is expected by the middle of this month.

Officials said the increased debt is due in part to tight money conditions, which prevented the government from selling some of its financial assets to the public.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George A. Smathers is retiring as secretary of the Democratic Conference — one of three principal Senate Democratic leadership posts.

The Florida senator said in a letter to Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield that was released Monday that he would not seek re-election to the post because of health reasons.

—:—

The U.S. Chamber of Commerce is forming a special advisory panel on urban transportation to consider the role of the federal government in the field and to review existing chamber transportation policies.

B'nai B'rith has established a $12.1 million budget to carry out the Jewish service organization's 1967 national programs.

Vet, 68, Gets Notice For Draft As Dropout

SUN CITY, Ariz. (AP) — Vernon Sperry's decision to go to college brought these results:

After he enrolled in an art course at Glendale Community College, the school assigned him to night classes.

Sperry found the night drive to and from his home tiring and applied for a tuition refund.

"Two weeks later, the college advised me that I had been dropped due to absenteeism," Sperry said.

Now Sperry, a 68-year-old veteran of World Wars I and II, says he has a letter ordering him to report to the draft as a school dropout.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Am I living in the dark ages or do I expect too much of my husband? Cocktail parties are my problem.

We walk into a cocktail party and off my husband goes for an hour or two or three. Occasionally, he'll whiz by and shout, "How are you doing?" But he's gone before I'm able to reply, "I'm doing absolutely lousy, thank you. I've been trapped by the world's biggest bores and my feet are killing me."

When I tell my husband I hate being stranded at cocktail parties but I could tolerate them if he would stay with me, he replies, "I don't like them myself, but it's an opportunity to make important contacts and just being seen is good for business. I can talk to YOU at home."

Am I being immature, as my husband insists? What can I do to cure him of abandoning me at these grueling affairs? — IGNORED WIFE.

Dear Wife: You have two choices, Lady. Either go to the cocktail parties with your husband and be prepared to fend off the bores or stay at home where you probably will feel twice as sorry for yourself.

Just Pretending

Dear Ann: I'm a 14-year-old girl who is writing to you because if I confessed this to anyone they'd think I was nuts.

This summer I went to Norway with my parents. So many wonderful things happened on the trip. When I came home, I felt all grown up.

Before I went away I hated doing dishes and making beds and cooking and baking. Now I find housekeeping is a lot of fun. And do you know why? Because I pretend I'm grown up and the house is mine. I even have an imaginary husband. Do you think I'm crazy, Ann? — MISS PRETEND.

Dear Miss: No, I don't. It's fun to pretend. And as long as you know you are pretending there is no harm in it. As it says in the song, if you want your dream to come true, you have to have a dream.

I'm printing your letter in the hope that other teenagers who hate housework might get an idea. (If it works, millions of mothers will bless you!)

Quit Pretending

Dear Ann: Last September I married a divorcee who has an 18-year-old son. Before we were married, she persuaded me to permit the boy to live with us until February when he would volunteer for the Army.

February has come and gone and the boy is still here. He is mouthy, insolent, arrogant and he also is wrecking our marriage.

When I came from work tonight my wife was crying. She said the boy had been baiting her all day. They argue constantly and he gets on her nerves but she never has disciplined him.

The boy has a job and is self-supporting. He gets along fairly well with his father who is unmarried. I feel he should go live there. I hate to make my wife choose between the boy and me, but that's the way things are headed.

What is your opinion of this mess? — ON THE EDGE.

Dear Edge: Remind your wife of the agreement that the boy would leave in February. But don't give her an ultimatum. It could wreck your marriage. Speak your piece and let's hope she has sense enough to do what should have been done in February.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of the Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

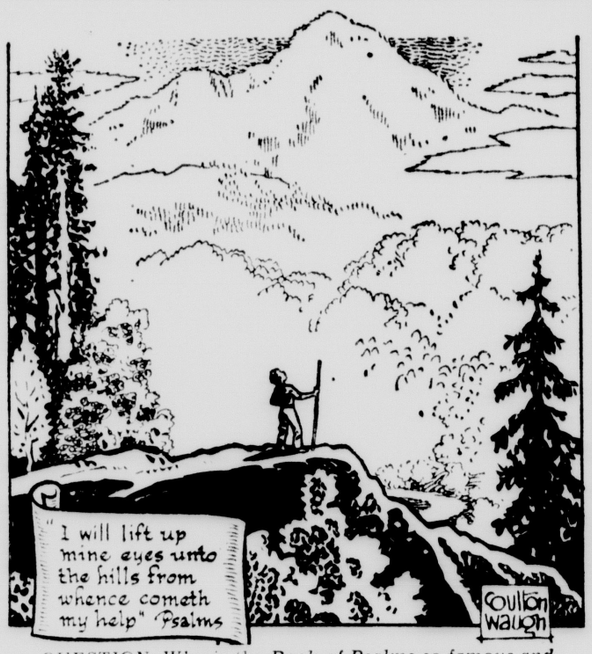
Junior Editors Quiz on PSALMS



QUESTION: Why is the Book of Psalms so famous and who wrote it?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: The Book of Psalms in the Bible is generally regarded as a collection of the most beautiful poetry ever written, and beyond this as a source of man's deepest spiritual wisdom. The Psalms were hymns used by the ancient Hebrews, originally sung to the accompaniment of such instruments as the trumpet, harp and cymbals. With the passing of time, appreciation of the Psalms spread beyond the Hebrews. Since these magnificent hymns expressed universal ideas, they became the possession of the whole of humanity. People of different creeds and religions feel in them an echo of something in their hearts — the impulse to turn toward loftiness of thought and action, to search for goodness and truth. The Psalms have comforted people when they were discouraged, humbled them when they became too proud, inspired them to climb upward instead of sliding downhill. It is difficult to say exactly who wrote the Psalms. King David is regarded as the author of a number of them. Some were writen by Asaph, the Korahites, and others of whom we know little.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Select your favorite Psalm and memorize it.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, Dec. 7, the 341st day of 1966. There are 24 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1941, between 150 and 200 Japanese war planes attacked Pearl Harbor. Within three minutes, the U.S. Navy had suffered more damage than it had in all of World War I. American casualties exceeded 4,000, including 2,117 dead.

On this date:

In 1787, Delaware became the first state to ratify the U.S. Constitution.

In 1916, David Lloyd George became prime minister of Great Britain.

In 1941, Canada and Australia declared war on Japan.

In 1944, on the third anniversary of the Japanese sneak attack on Pearl Harbor, it was announced that all six of the Japanese carriers which took part in that attack had been sunk.

Ten years ago — A fire on a Chicago elevated train killed a motorman and injured at least 46 other persons.

Five years ago — President John F. Kennedy—At the AFL-CIO convention in Bal Harbor, Fla.,—reiterated a request he made the day before in New York before the National Association of Manufacturers for support of his plans to liberalize U.S. foreign trade policies.

One year ago — Pope Paul VI proclaimed the four final decrees of the Second Vatican Ecumenical Council, climaxing three years of work on updating the policies of the Roman Catholic Church.

Work Of County TB Clinic Reviewed In Monthly Report

LISBON — The Columbiana County Tuberculosis Clinic at the Courthouse made 75 chest X-rays in November, according to Dr. M. K. Singer, county health commissioner and clinic director.

No new cases of TB were found last month, but one patient was admitted to a hospital, bringing to 10 the number of county patients in TB hospitals.

The clinic gave 2,437 Heaf and 85 Mantoux tests.

—:—

DR. SINGER held five consultations with patients. Nurses made 67 home visits and two patients were launched on drug therapy. The county has 156 TB patients on medication at home.

Six of the 10 hospitalized patients are in the Ohio Tuberculosis Hospital at Columbus, three are in veterans' hospitals and one is in the Mahoning County TB hospital.

Five of the hospitalized patients are from Salem, three from the general health district, which includes all the county except the four cities, and two are from East Liverpool.

The clinic on the third floor of the Courthouse is supported entirely by a county tax levy and is controlled by three trustees—Felix Butch of Lisbon, Dr. F. R. Crowgey of Salem and James S. Sigler of East Liverpool. Mrs. Theda Thornton is supervising nurse and there are two staff nurses.

Dr. Singer, appointed director Oct. 1, says he has found the public is confusing the TB clinic with the Columbiana County Health League, that people visiting the clinic frequently say "we buy the Christmas Seals." "The two agencies are entirely different," he explained.

The health league is a voluntary organization, an affiliate of the National Tuberculosis Association, and finances health education and research through Christmas Seal sales. It has an office on N. Market St., a block from the Courthouse.

—:—

DR. SINGER said the TB clinic offers the following services to help detect, control and eradicate tuberculosis in the county:

Funds to cover hospital care for all county patients in TB hospitals.

Anti-TB medicine for patients under treatment at home and monthly visits, where indicated, by a county TB nurse.

Heaf tuberculin skin tests in the schools and the Mantoux tuberculin tests at the clinic.

Chest X-rays for all who react positively to the Mantoux and periodically for all county residents who have diagnosed cases of tuberculosis.

Dr. Singer interprets the X-rays and reports to the family physician designated by the patient.

The Heaf test is given children in grades 1-3-5-9-10-12 each year in city, village, rural and parochial schools as a case-finding program, he continued. Approximately 15,000 students are tested each year. Those with questionable reactions are referred to the clinic for a diagnostic Mantoux test.

Approximately 1,700 Mantoux tests were given in 1965. Besides Heaf referrals, the subjects were food handlers, school bus drivers, teachers and other school personnel who had not had a negative X-ray within one year. Employment regulations require that they be checked for TB each year.

All these services, plus consultation with the medical director, are free, Dr. Singer emphasized. The clinic is open from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 8 a.m. to noon Saturday.

As extra-clinical work, the nurses on occasion go to various industries, offices and institutions where a case of tuberculosis has been found to give the Mantoux test to contacts of the victim. They made 120 tests on such visits to Salem this fall.

Fireflies Classified Natural Monuments

SENDAI, Japan (AP) — The fireflies in the nearby Sawabe area of northern Japan have been officially classifed as "natural monuments" by the Ministry of Education.

To make sure they don't die out as a result of growing urbanization, authorities are planning to plant trees, around reservoirs where they breed. Officials also are stocking the reservoirs with shelfish on which firefly larvae feed.

2 Akron Youths Shot Fatally; Bartender Cited

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Two youths were shot fatally in downtown Akron late Tuesday night and police immediately charged a 29-year-old bartender with first-degree murder.

The shooting occurred just outside Rene's bar apparently after the owner-bartender refused to serve beer to the victims.

The dead were identified by police as Mike McGraw, 16, and Jerry D. Derring, 17.

Arrested at the scene was Richard A. Geiser of Akron, whom police identified as the bar's owner.

County Prosecutor James Barbuto said Geiser had refused to serve McGraw and Derring. The two teen-agers went outside, Geiser followed, and shot them down with a .22 caliber revolver, according to Barbuto.

Police converged on the scene, took the gun and arrested Geiser who offered no resistance, they said.

Michigan Visit Ended By Salineville Family

SALINEVILLE — Mr. and Mrs. William Brown of Jefferson St. have returned from a visit with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Wright and family of Midland, Mich.

The Loyal Men's Bible Class of the Church of Christ met Friday night at the church, with Gillis Earl, president, conducting the business session.

The Rev. Rick Beam led devotions. His topic was "Waste of Spare Time".

An oyster supper was served by Ted Householder, Wilfred Burnip and Gillis Earl.

Late Dime Store Magnate's Kin Is Found Dead

NEW YORK (AP) — James (Jimmy) Donahue, grandson of the late dime store magante Frank W. Woolworth, was found dead Tuesday in the apartment of his mother on swank Fifth Avenue. Police said he died of natural causes.

Police said Donahue, 53, was found lying in bed by his mother, Mrs. James P. Donahue. A doctor from the Lennox Hill Hospital pronounced him dead. Police said his body has been released to the family.

Donahue was a cousin of another Woolworth heir, Barbara Hutton. He maintained a mansion on a 100-acre estate off Cedar Swamp Road in Old Brookville, Long Island.

Donahue, long a patron of the arts, gave $100,000 in 1960 for the new Metropolitan Opera House in Lincoln Center. He was a former president of the New York Foundling Hospital.

In October 1964, while he was on an extended holiday in Greece, thieves broke into his Long Island mansion and carted off $100,000 in antique art treasures.

The 100-acre estate was purchased in 1956 for a reported $400,000 from Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt.

Work Of County TB Clinic Reviewed In Monthly Report

LISBON — The Columbiana County Tuberculosis Clinic at the Courthouse made 75 chest X-rays in November, according to Dr. M. K. Singer, county health commissioner and clinic director.

No new cases of TB were found last month, but one patient was admitted to a hospital, bringing to 10 the number of county patients in TB hospitals.

The clinic gave 2,437 Heaf and 85 Mantoux tests.

DR. SINGER held five consultations with patients. Nurses made 67 home visits and two patients were launched on drug therapy. The county has 156 TB patients on medication at home.

Six of the 10 hospitalized patients are in the Ohio Tuberculosis Hospital at Columbus, three are in veterans' hospitals and one is in the Mahoning County TB hospital.

Five of the hospitalized patients are from Salem, three from the general health district, which includes all the county except the four cities, and two are from East Liverpool.
